Spy Tells Of Quest For Secrets

NAZI AGENTS RIFLED MAIL

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(UP)—The trial of three suspected Nazi spies revealed today that months ago Nazis here and in Europe were calling Czechoslovakia "our next objective."

4th Day On Stand

Rumrich was still under direct examination today, his fourth day on the stand. His account of the espionage, directed, the government charges, by the German war office and naval intelligence, said that Nazi agents were bold enough to rifle the mails aboard German liners in their quest for United States military secrets, and stupid enough to send to Germany a weekly weather report of the department of commerce because they had been told to send "anything with an official stamp on it."

Brother Joins

The next thing Rumrich heard from his brother, he was in the "service." It developed that Schleuter had wasted no time recruiting him.

State Prorate Plans Studied

FRESNO, Cal., Oct. 20.—(UP)—California crop proration methods are being studied by federal agricultural officials, who may adopt the principles of the prorate in setting national farm marketing problems, Edison Abel, secretary of the state prorate commission, told leaders of the winegrape, raisin and fig industry stabilization programs here today.

British Public Okehs Minister

LONDON, Oct. 20.—(UP)—First returns of a poll conducted by the News Chronicle on how the voters feel towards Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain showed a preponderance in his favor.

Theater Owners Rap Distributors

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 20.—(UP)—Motion picture exhibitors in convention here denounced film distributors today for allegedly forcing independent theater owners to take pictures they do not want.

Plan Survey Of Flood Project

FRESNO, Cal., Oct. 20.—(UP)—An aerial survey of the Pine Flat flood control project on the Kings river in connection with a flood control study now in progress was planned today by Kings river and Tulare lake irrigation interests.

300 Jailed By British

JERUSALEM, Oct. 20.—(UP)—British troops today rounded up 300 Arab prisoners in old Jerusalem after they had lifted a two-day rebel siege by storming through the gates of the 16th century walls.

The prisoners, all men, denied they were rebels, but they were questioned, examined for shoulder bruises that might have been made by rifle butts, and held for identification.

Sporadic fighting continued in the Moslem quarter, where the rebels were making a last stand. The toll of the British occupation so far had been nine Arabs killed.

REACH SETTLEMENT IN S. F. LABOR WAR

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—(UP)—An agreement, subject to ratification, to end the tie up of 137 San Francisco bay area warehouses caused by a four months' dispute between the San Francisco Distributors association and the Committee for Industrial Organization Warehousemen's union, was announced today.

It was believed the agreement would be ratified by both the union and the employers this weekend, and that the warehouses would reopen Monday.

"Full Accord"

Paul C. Smith, general manager of the San Francisco Chronicle, who acted as mediator in the dispute, announced early this morning after an all night peace conference that a "full accord" was reached on a master contract.

Later the negotiating committees of the distributors and the

Football Injury May Prove Fatal

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 20.—(UP)—The condition of Thomas McCandless, injured high school football player, remained virtually unchanged today as the Philippine Clipper sped his mother across the Pacific to his bedside.

Nurses at the hospital where the youth has been confined with spinal injuries since last Saturday said he had spent a fair night. His condition is regarded as critical. McCandless was hurt in a game with Stockton high school.

The mother, Mrs. Madeline Colburn, will be met at Alameda this morning and rushed to Sacramento by automobile.

McCandless and his brother, Robert, Sacramento junior college student, are sons of John McCandless of Honolulu. The parents are estranged.

Where 14 Escaped Fiery Death

Wreckage of an Eastern Airlines plane which landed with one wing flaming in a cotton field near Montgomery, Ala., just in time to allow 14 occupants to escape to safety before the plane itself caught fire. The cool courage, action and quick thinking of Pilot John Hissong was credited with saving the lives of 14 in the plane.—(Acme Telephoto).

SIX LOSE LIVES IN BATTLE WITH BLAZE

SINCEMAHONING, Pa., Oct. 20.—(UP)—A swiftly striking forest fire claimed a sixth life today with the death in a hospital of another CCC enrollee who had participated in fighting the freakish blaze in this hunting and fishing paradise.

Ross Hallbaugh, 18, Rimersburg, Pa., his body covered with burns, died in the Renovo hospital where two others of his companions are being treated.

300 Fight Flames

More than 300 men had fought for two days the fire which burned 50 square miles of the "sportsman's paradise" in Cameron county. A heavy rain deluged the area, checking the flames, and they were able to put it out.

The dead were trapped by a sudden wind last night after they ignited a back fire as a fire-break. The wind encircled them in flames and escape was impossible. Four were CCC enrollees; the other was Gilbert Mohney, 33, Ridgeway, Pa., an employee of the United States department of forests.

After the circle of flames had diminished somewhat, Harry Stenton, one of the volunteers, fought his way through and found Mohney unconscious on a road along which he had tried to escape. Stenton held him in his arms and bathed his face with cold water. Mohney revived, saw the fire advancing towards them.

"Go on and leave me," he said. "I'll have to give in."

He died in Stenton's arms.

Desert Wind Hits County

The first desert wind of the season today descended upon Orange county, bringing its usual consternation as it lunged down the Santa Ana canyon and whirled out across the coastal plain.

Agricultural Commissioner D. V. Tubbs announced that the wind would halt all pest control activities in the orchard districts, such weather forcing the sprayers to lay down their equipment.

The wind reached northern areas of the county this morning and was expected to be sweeping the southern districts this afternoon.

Charge Coercion In Labor Row

RENO, Nev., Oct. 20.—(UP)—Officials of the teamsters' union, an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor, today charged the Isbell construction company with attempting to coerce employees into joining the Highway Workers' Federation, an independent organization.

President H. A. Andersen accused a former company official of telling workers to join the federation "or lose your jobs within 10 days."

Andersen said the teamsters would call a strike and picket the Verdi-Lawtons highway construction project if necessary. The company holds the contract for the job.

Easter Star Holds Election

OAKLAND, Calif., Oct. 20.—(UP)—Mrs. Maud Fleutsch, Merced, today took office as worthy grand matron of the Order of the Eastern Star, John Vale, of Los Angeles, was the new worthy grand patron.

Club officers elected at the California convention of the order were Mrs. Helen Louise Edwards, Fullerton, associate grand matron; Mrs. Gertrude Conant, Wheatland, grand conductress; Mrs. Catherine Yates, San Francisco, grand treasurer; and Mrs. Maude Smith, San Francisco, grand secretary.

Reveal Area Gained By Nazis

BERLIN, Oct. 20.—(UP)—Germany acquired 10,335 square miles of territory from Czechoslovakia in the Sudetenland dismemberment and a population which in 1930 Czechoslovak census totaled 2,595,000, the authoritative Reich statistical bureau announced today.

It was added that the total area of the Greater Germany was now 225,096 square miles and that the population was 78,700,000.

Air Hero

The cool courage and quick thinking of Pilot John David Hissong, Eastern Air lines pilot, is credited with saving 14 lives in the burning of a transport plane near Montgomery, Ala. Hissong landed his ship safely in a cotton field after one motor had burst into fire, dropped from the plane.

G. O. P. IN DRIVE TO CHANGE LABOR LAWS

WARREN, O., Oct. 20.—(UP)—Chairman John D. M. Hamilton of the Republican national committee said today that Republican members of the next congress would seek amendment of the National Labor Relations Act "in the interest of fair play for the worker, fair play for the employer and fair play for the American Federation of Labor."

In a pre-election campaign address prepared for delivery here at noon, Hamilton said that Republicans agree with President William Green of the A. F. of L. that the administration of the labor act is "biased."

Without mentioning the Committee for Industrial Organization directly, he added:

Agree With A.F.L.

"They (Republicans) agree, generally, with the amendments to this legislation approved by the A.F. of L. convention. They agree because they believe that government should be an umpire to enforce fair play—not a partisan of one faction or another."

He began his address with the assertion that he considered it appropriate to "make clear the attitude of the Republican party toward labor" in the Mahoning valley—the home of little steel and the scene of a C.I.O. strike last year.

Citing progressive legislation over the last 30 years, he said the G.O.P. always "has been consistently friendly to labor."

Promote Protection

The present Ohio Republican platform, he said, promises to protect the right of labor to organize and to bargain collectively, but proposes an equivalent code of unfair practices for labor for every code of unfair practices for employers, and amendment of the N.L.R.A., "to provide equal rights and impartial procedure for both employer and employee."

NAZI ATTACKS ON CATHOLICS INVESTIGATED BY DER FUEHRER

VIENNA, Oct. 20.—(UP)—Adolf Hitler was reported to be making a personal inquiry into recent anti-Catholic and possibly anti-Jewish activities in Austria.

Hitler arrived at Linz, Austria, yesterday, and it was understood that he conferred with Arthur Seyss-Inquart, provincial governor of Austria, and with high Austrian Nazi leaders.

It was expected that Hitler would tour the southern area of Czechoslovak Sudetenland which was ceded to Germany and then visit the lower Danube country where he was born.

13 Face Trial

Usually reliable informants said today that 13 Franciscan monks would be tried publicly at Salzburg soon on immorality charges.

It was reported that the trial was intended to coincide with the anti-church campaign launched by Joseph Buerckel, Nazi leader for Austria, under the slogan that Na-

UNION WORKER SAYS LIFE THREATENED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—(UP)—James Mitchell, Detroit, Murray Body works union member, broke into tears today as he told the house committee investigating un-American activities, that Communists threatened his life.

Mitchell said he had heard the Communists say "awful dirty things about the American flag."

Mitchell presented his testimony after Dies called on the labor department to submit the names and records of 3000 aliens allegedly subject to deportation who are still in this country.

Finds Red Flag

Mitchell related that he had opened a drawer of the desk of Loy T. Jones, president of the United Auto Workers local at the Murray body works.

"Here is what I found," he cried, waving a red Communist flag. "Here is what they would like to bring to Washington."

Committee proceedings were suspended while Mitchell posed for photographers with the flag draped over his arm.

He said Communists directed and plotted sit down strikes as a means of stirring class hatred and promoting industrial struggle.

Plot Strategy

They plotted their strategy, he said, in meetings held "at Julia Buchanan's home in Hamtramck or in meetings in the basements of union members' homes."

He said the Communists were meticulous in planning sit down strikes and agreed that Dies was correct in assuming that "each man was placed at a strategic post so at a given hour the whole plant could be shut down."

S. A. Woman Is Victim of Thieves

Widespread search for two Mexicans suspected of stealing a pocket book containing $165 in cash, two fountain pens and other articles from Mrs. Myrtle Clark, an employee of the Charles W. Horn book store at 605 Main street yesterday afternoon was under way today.

Police believe the two Mexican youths, who were described as young and well dressed, are the same ones who secured sums of money at two other Santa Ana stores in the past week.

Mrs. Clark reported that the pocketbook was under the cash register desk. Apparently the theft was committed while she was talking with one of the Mexicans in the front of the store, she told police.

Nab Chinese As Murder Suspects

TIJUANA, Baja Cal., Mexico, Oct. 20.—(UP)—Accused of slaying Genevieve Barron, 19-year-old Mexican-American girl, whose body was found buried in a truckload of vegetables near Tecate yesterday, two Chinese truck farmers were bound over to the court of first instance today charged with murder.

Tijuana Police Chief Jose Lopez Lemus said one of the suspects, Frederick Choin, 35, confessed that the girl had been killed by a .32 calibre revolver, but he refused to divulge the names of the killers or the conditions of the slaying.

Choin and his companion, Jose Wong, 30, Tecate truck farmers, were arrested yesterday on the Mexican highway when a search of their truck revealed the body of the Ensenada girl buried beneath a load of vegetables.

Tough Customers

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 20.—(UP)—Police got a tip last night that two "tough looking" persons were preparing to bomb a cleaning plant. Officers were cautioned to "be careful."

They found two small boys celebrating Halloween prematurely by wearing false faces and sneaking around the plant.

HEIR AWAITED

CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 20.—(UP)—Queen Farida, young wife of King Farouk, is expecting the birth of a baby, it was announced today. Her physicians said the child may be expected early in November.

King Farouk and Farida were married last January 20.

PAIR SAVED OFF LAGUNA

Clinging for 12 hours to the mast of a fishing boat, six miles off the coast of Laguna Beach, Chester E. Inglehart, captain of the 26-foot craft 27A383, and a friend, Bernard "Bill" Weil of Newport Beach, who made the fishing trip with him, were picked up early yesterday afternoon by four young men from Ontario who were cruising around the coast near Laguna.

The young men were D. E. Gates of 130 East California boulevard, C. B. Shady and Mel Munson of 418 East Transit avenue, and George Youngblood, 114½ Pleasant street, Ontario. Six flares were sent up during the night by the men but were unnoticed by airplanes which flew overhead several times or by a purse-seiner which passed them.

Two-ton Catch
Capt. Inglehart and Weil set sail for the San Onofre fishing banks Tuesday morning at 3 o'clock. Running into a unusually large school of mackerel they fished until 8 p.m., when it is estimated they had aboard about two tons of fish. They headed their boat toward Newport and three hours later were about six miles off the coast.

Weil was asleep in the cabin when Inglehart noticed that the boat seemed to drag. Going to the cabin he found it filling with water and both he and Weil put on life belts. Water filled the cabin and stopped the engine and the boat soon began to sink.

Became Delirious
As the hours passed both men became delirious at times. Weil's thoughts being of his wife and family of young children. Several times one or the other lost his hold on the mast to be rescued by his companion. With the coming of day the men believed that the boat could see them, but 12 hours had passed before they were sighted by the crew on the speed boat. The men seeing the speed boat about five miles away, in a last desperate effort, waved a white shirt.

It is thought that the boat may have been overloaded since so large a load never had been carried on it before. That a slow leak developed in the hull is thought to be a possibility. The men both are recovering at their homes, Capt. Inglehart living at Costa Mesa with a sister, Mrs. Louise Bechtold. They are confined to their beds and are suffering from exposure and from swallowing large quantities of sea water.

Appeal to Chiang

Japanese advisers earlier said that two of China's leading generals on the southern front had appealed to Generalissimo Chiang.

Escaped Convict Nabbed In South

FLORENCE, Ariz., Oct. 20.—(UP)—A youthful convict who joined four others in an escape from the Arizona state prison here has been captured at Ashville, N. C., Warden John G. Eager reported today.

The convict, Tony Meyers, 22, Yuma county robber, one of the five still at liberty, was retaken by police in the southern city, Warden Eager said.

Meyers and the others broke from the prison farm more than four months ago, stabbing a guard and later Archie Short, alias James Bailey, 25, killed a deputy sheriff.

The escape started a series in which more than 28 convicts have fled the prison and at one time Gov. R. C. Stanford was forced to call out National guardsmen to control the tense situation.

Recount Votes In Arizona Primary

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 20.—(UP)—Three inspectors appointed by the superior court here today began a recount of all votes cast in the Arizona primary election.

Secretary of State James H. Kerby, defeated in a four-man contest for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, demanded the recount in a court action charging fraud in conduct of the polls.

R. T. Jones, state senator, won the nomination on the basis of a first count by 2,676 votes.

Traffic Death Decline Recorded

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 20.—(UP)—A decline in traffic deaths thus far this year compared with 1937 was reported today by the state department of motor vehicles.

The department's figures showed 1,687 deaths during the first eight months of 1938, compared with 1,954 for the corresponding period last year.

Grand Jury Recesses While Juvenile Home Issue Rages

The county grand jury today took a "breather" from its double-barreled investigation of a political pamphlet and juvenile home charges.

No session was held today. Reports that the grand jury would not be back to the courthouse until next Tuesday could not be confirmed. Its whereabouts and the purpose of the recess remained unexplained behind the veil of grand jury secrecy.

Juvenile Home Issue

Meanwhile the charges made before the American Legion's council by Russell Norton, of Balboa, concerning conduct of juvenile home and the juvenile court, continued to hold the attention of official circles.

Branded by Anaheim Legion post as being politically inspired,

MERRIAM INDORSEMENT BY AFL CHIEF CREATES FUROR

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—(UP)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, was alternately praised and condemned by state labor spokesmen today for his indorsement of the candidacy of Frank F. Merriam, Republican incumbent seeking re-election as governor.

Republican campaign headquarters issued a statement signed by six officers of AFL unions praising Green for his action and condemning Merriam's Democratic opponent, Culbert Olson, who has received support from the Committee for Industrial Organization.

Branded "Faker"

Olson's charge that Green's indorsement branded him as "the nation's chief labor faker" was answered by the six union officials who said Merriam "stands for the principles of the AFL against the un-American principles of confiscation and destruction preached and practiced by the misleaders of the

TREASURY DEFICIT HOVERS AT BILLION MARK

FIGURES SHOW SPENDING RATE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—(UP)—The gross treasury deficit is about to hit one billion dollars today as business begins to move faster with the flow of relief and pump priming spending.

Because treasury figures lag a couple of days behind current accounts it is quite possible the deficit already has exceeded $1,000,000,000 for this fiscal year.

Comparison Given
Latest figures through Oct. 18 compare treasury fiscal year accounts of that date this year with a year ago as follows:

This Year	Last Year
Expenses ... $2,991,459,277	$2,318,712,338
Receipts ... 1,694,136,499	1,896,889,888
Gross deficit ... 997,322,777	421,822,450

National debt ... $3,422,756,608 $6,946,262,708
Comparison of spending in the first 17 days of October this year with the first 17 days of October last year, however, more accurately reflects the increasing tempo of federal spending as the Roosevelt pump priming program begins to take hold.

Broadening Recovery
Favorable business developments, such as early reemployment of 35,000 General Motors factory workers, and restoration of pay cuts to some $30,000 G. M. white collar employees are part of the general picture of a broadening recovery base which many observers link directly to increased federal spending.

That pump priming is directly affecting treasury figures is indicated by comparison of October figures for 1938 and 1937.

One year ago President Roosevelt still was in the process of applying economy brakes. The 17-day increase in spending, receipts and

Gross deficit in October, 1938, compared with October, 1937, show that the administration is tremendously increasing the expenditure rate this year. Here are the figures:

1938	1937
Oct. 1-17	Oct. 1-17
Spent ... $1,694,136,499	$1,896,889,888
Receipts ... 1,694,136,499	1,896,889,888
Gross deficit ... 997,322,777	421,822,450

Debt in New High
Those figures show that the treasury is taking in less money this month than a year ago but is spending it much more rapidly. For that reason the deficit is moving far beyond last year's figure and the national debt consistently is establishing new record highs.

The Works Progress Administration alone has put out more than $600,000,000 so far in this fiscal year—almost twice as much as a year ago. It spent $110,000,000 in the first 17 days of October compared with $53,000,000 from Oct. 1 to 17, inclusive, in 1937.

As business reacts to treasury spending, some new dealers see prospects of accelerated recovery. Secretary of Commerce Roper believes increased automobile employment will tend to broaden the recovery base.

Despite an increasing deficit and record breaking national debt, the United States apparently looks comparatively safe to foreigners. The government's monetary gold stock has hit a figure approximately $14,000,000,000 close to 57 per cent of the world's total monetary gold stocks.

The gold hoard has increased more than $1,200,000,000 in the past 12 months. This increase consisted largely of frightened money flying from Europe to comparatively safety here. Another factor in demonstrating American fiscal stability is the treasury's strong cash position. Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau's working balance is $2,130,943,699.

P.-T. A. COMMITTEE REPORTS SUBMITTED
The regular Spurgeon P.-T. A. meeting was held this week in the school auditorium. The business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. L. D. Spencer.

Chairmen of the various committees gave their reports to start the meeting. Mrs. Victor Hupp introduced Mrs. Leo Hedges, state chairman of the P.-T. A. motion picture committee. Mrs. Hedges delivered a talk on suitable pictures for children and then showed three films.

Mrs. Ora K. Heine, president of the Santa Ana high school P.-T. A. spoke on the different propositions on the ballot. Mrs. Rowena Heine's fourth-grade class entertained the group with Halloween songs during the program. Mrs. R. E. Steinberger and Mrs. H. E. Wahlberg headed the social hour committee. The school's annual carnival will be held tomorrow afternoon and evening.

PARENTS MAY OKEH PASTEUR TREATMENT FOR DOG VICTIMS

MENLO PARK, Cal., Oct. 20.—(UP)—The weight of public opinion appeared likely today to secure pasteur treatment for Robert Stentford, 14, whose parents rejected the inoculations against threat of agonizing death for him.

The parents of Ruth Hunnel, 14, and also attacked by the same mad terrier that bit Robert last Thursday, gave in to the clamor that rose over their anti-medical attitude.

Tired of Hullahaloo
"I am tired of all this hullahaloo," said Tillman Hunnel, father of the girl. "That is the only reason for beginning treatments."

Neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stentford believed they also would capitulate to persuasion of friends, and medical authorities who found themselves legally powerless to compel Robert to ward off hydrophobia.

Although Ruth's ankle was "only scratched by the dog's toenail," Robert received a bite on the hand that broke the skin. His mother said the wound was cauterized and that it quickly healed.

Wounds Dangerous
Dr. R. J. Gerlough, Menlo Park health officer, and Dr. J. C. Geiger, San Francisco medical officer, both told the recalcitrant parents that a scratch was as dangerous as a bite from an animal infected with deadly rabies.

The hydrophobia virus transmitted to humans develops its lethal symptoms within four weeks to two months. The victims of "water madness" die of strangulation or of exhaustion. Pasteur's treatment, only salvation from the madness, has been given successfully three weeks after a bite.

Meanwhile, Golden's trial on a charge of grand theft from the person of Mann, began before a jury in Superior Judge G. K. Scovel's court yesterday, and Mann appeared in that court as a witness against the Negro. The Golden trial still was in progress today.

'Ancient' Spinning Wheel On Display
Reputed to be more than 100 years old, an ancient spinning wheel in the window of Vander-mast's Clothing store, West Fourth and Sycamore streets, has attracted hundreds of passersby yesterday and today.

The wheel is in perfect working condition just as it was when it stood as the symbol of domestic tranquility in the homes of a century ago. The entire frame and wheel is hand made and is held together with wooden pegs.

Bar Association Meets Tomorrow
Orange County Bar Association will meet at noon tomorrow at Dangler's.

One of the purposes of the meeting will be to hear the reports of delegates to the recent California Bar convention. Col. M. B. Wellington will report on the conference of bar association delegates and Raymond Thompson will give his report on the convention.

PLAN LATHROP LUNCH
A covered dish luncheon will be the feature of a meeting of the Lathrop junior high school Parent-Teacher association executive board meeting at 8:30 a. m. tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Edwin Childs, 1201 South Broadway. Room Mothers of the organization will be the special guests at the meeting. Members attending are requested to bring covered dish and table service.

PLAN PENSION MEETING
Supporters of any type of old age pension are invited to the meeting of Santa Ana General Welfare center which will be held tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. in the Unitarian church auditorium, Eighth and Bush streets. It was announced today. H. P. Knyon will be principal speaker and important election plans will be discussed, welfare center officials said.

Court Notes
A jury verdict in favor of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Camm and their son, Bill Camm, late yesterday ended the suit brought against the Camms by May E. Roberts, who asked $5033.50 damages for injuries she received last April 4 in a traffic accident at West Wilshire and North Highland avenues, Fullerton. The verdict was returned in Superior Judge G. K. Scovel's court.

Suit for $33,833.34 damages was filed in superior court late yesterday by V. J. Purkiss against E. J. Levensgood, as the outgrowth of an automobile collision at Orange-thorpe avenue and Stanton road October 7.

Articles of incorporation for Craftsmen, Inc., of Laguna Beach, dealers in arts and crafts products, were filed today in the office of County Clerk Basil J. Smith. The articles show that 2500 shares of stock, of no par value, are authorized. Directors are Robert N. Leftwick and Alice M. Lettwick, of Laguna Beach, and Lillian Y. Ward-en, of South Laguna.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES
This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

CONCERT TO BE GIVEN TONIGHT

A near-capacity house is expected to hear the concert tonight at the high school auditorium when the federal music project's symphony orchestra numbering 60 musicians, gives its second concert in the autumn series. With the opening strains of Tchaikowsky's sublime 5th Symphony, the program will get underway promptly at 8:15.

The powerful Tchaikowsky score will be followed by the wildly Russian fantasia, "A Night on Bare Mountain," and will also include the ever-delightful overture to "Hansel and Gretel" by Humperdinck.

Gloria To Play
Featured as violin soloist, Gloria Chiappinelli who scored such a success as guest artist with the orchestra last winter, returns to play the lovely Saint-Saens' Concerto in B Minor. The Concerto (for violin and orchestra) is written in three movements, the second a graceful barcarolle quite Italian in colour at the end of which a charming effect is produced by the employment of harmonics for the solo instrument. Its incomparable effectiveness throughout has given it first rank in popularity with cultured violinists.

Miss Chiappinelli is 14 and is regarded as outstanding among juvenile artists. "Her technical accuracy in playing highly difficult compositions, is heard," Conductor Leon Eckles declared.

Tickets will go on sale at the box office opening at 7 p. m. tonight. The same price scale will prevail, with half-prices for students and W.P.A. workers.

PROPOSITIONS ARE ANALYZED BY BEMIS
Under the direction of the Adult Education department of Santa Ana city schools, Dr. George W. Bemis, of the University of California at Los Angeles last night addressed a meeting at Willard school auditorium on three propositions to appear on the November ballot.

Discussion included propositions concerned with the reorganization of state relief funds to cities, counties, and districts for local purposes, and the Huntington Beach oil leases.

Next meeting of the group will be held at the auditorium at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday at which time a discussion of the "30 warrants every Thursday" pension plan will be held. The public is invited to attend the meeting.

Punch Boards and Slot Machines Seized In Raids
Raids on cafes, drug stores, service stations and grocery stores during forays conducted all day yesterday in county territory by a crew of deputies, under Sheriff Logan Jackson netted more than 80 punch boards and approximately 15 or 20 slot machines, a check-up today revealed.

Deputies Steve Duhart, James Musick, Bob Steinberger and A. W. Fullerton hauled truck loads of the confiscated devices to the sheriff's office headquarters. No arrests were made.

The raids were staged in the territories of Sunset Beach, Bolea, Tustin, San Juan Capistrano, Talbert, Oceanview, Midway City, Los Alamitos, Costa Mesa, Buena Park, Yorba Linda and Atwood.

FULLERTON CITY PROJECT APPROVED

The Works Progress administration has approved the Fullerton city hall project, it was announced yesterday by Mayor T. K. Gowen. The project calls for $77,000 of federal money, with the city of Fullerton providing the site on West Commonwealth avenue and $36,000 in cash.

Work cannot start until an appeal against a superior court ruling is settled. The court ruling denied validity of a referendum petition. The petitioners sought to keep the Fullerton council from carrying out plans to erect the building on the West Commonwealth site.

RUTH ETTING OFFERS TO AID IN RECONCILIATION OF PAIR

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 20.—(UP)—Ruth Etting, retired radio and movie singer, offered today to permit the divorced wife of her second husband whom she "loves ecstatically" to see him and try to bring about a reconciliation.

Her second husband, Myrl Alderman, 40, a musician, is recovering in a hospital from a bullet wound inflicted by her first husband, Martin (Colonel Moe) Snyder.

Seeks $150,000
Alderman's second wife, Alma, is suing her for $150,000 alleging that she alienated Alderman's affections and her lawyer, S. S. Hahn, wrote Alderman that "your wife Alma Alderman had consultation with me and as a result we came to the conclusion that reconciliation between you and her is possible. The welfare and future of your baby is of paramount importance."

Miss Etting said it was all right for Mrs. Alderman to see her former husband in the hospital if she wished, but that her suit was "just a publicity stunt." Alderman made no comment.

A grand jury indicted Snyder yesterday on charges of attempted murder and violation of the firearms law after hearing Miss Etting's version of the shooting in her home last Saturday night.

Emerging from the grand jury room, reporters asked her if she was really married to Alderman. She replied:

No Marriage Record
"Well they couldn't find any record of it, could they?"

The reason for this question was that Miss Etting and Alderman had announced after the shooting that they had eloped in July to Tijuana, Mex. Mrs. Alderman had obtained her divorce decree in December and it will not become final for one year. Therefore, the announcement caused some surprise as Alderman was not free, in California, to marry. Tijuana officials said they had no record of the marriage there.

United Action Is Way to Higher Citrus Returns

Only by working together can growers utilize these three sources of improved income

Citrus returns can be increased by (1) cutting costs, (2) selling more fruit or (3) raising prices. These three ways are the only ones. And none can be made fully effective without the united action of the industry.

(1) Costs have been cut by Exchange members as they have gained the benefits of large volume operation. They share services unavailable to the single grower except at prohibitive expense. Their representations have weight at freight-rate and other hearings. Their economy measures gain in effectiveness with the growth of membership.

(2) More fruit can only be sold through widened distribution and increased demand. The Exchange has unexcelled sales facilities in domestic and foreign markets, and is fully supplying existing demand everywhere to the best of its ability. Beyond this, the Exchange has done more than any other agency to build demand, with over thirty years of continuous Sunkist advertising. This year, a record crop of Valencias was sold at prices which advanced more than fifty cents per box (Exchange f. o. b. average) during the season, as the result of determined efforts to stabilize marketing. Much more can be accomplished in this direction with increased support from within the industry.

(3) Raising prices is chiefly a problem of regulating shipments to the immediate demand. This regulation can only be accomplished by the unanimous action of growers, as provided by the Citrus Marketing Agreement. Finally, however, higher prices must depend upon the industry's ability to further increase the consumption of citrus fruits.

Higher citrus returns, by whatever means, inevitably hinge on united grower action.

'TROUBLE' TOLD OVER DRILLING

Names of a Joe Rosenthal of Los Angeles and a Dr. H. P. Gunnar of Chicago were entered in the records at the hearing of the state personnel board in Los Angeles yesterday. The hearing is being held in connection with charges against Carl B. Sturzenacker, former head of the state division of lands, and his assistant, A. H. Alexander.

Cecil M. Rood, prominent Huntington Beach oil operator, told of having "a lot of trouble" getting permission to redrill a Vicaroo well in the beach city.

Tells About Call

He said that Tom Stipp of the state division where the permit application was pending called at his home one September night in 1936 "and said I was to call Joe Rosenthal on the phone."

Rosenthal later was identified only as Joe or J. W. Rosenthal, 1001 William Fox building, 608 South Hill street, Los Angeles.

Stipp had done so, Board Attorney Frank Perry stated, on instructions from Alexander.

Rood testified that he called Rosenthal and that eventually he paid Rosenthal $500.

"Always Doubted It"

Questioned as to whether Rosenthal had provided any service in connection with getting the permit and payment of the $500, Rood said:

"He always claimed he did. We always doubted that he did."

Rood told of meeting Rosenthal in a hotel room in connection with the attempt to get the permit, of how Rosenthal declared he would be able to do Rood "a lot of good" and that Rood at the time regarded Rosenthal's story as "a fairy tale."

Perry said the State has been unable to locate Rosenthal.

Permit Received

Rood said the company eventually got the drilling permit.

Leo Harry Barnett, Belflower oil man, told the board that his Mar Rio Oil, was trying to get permission from the division of lands to deepen Eloyd well No. 1 (now O'Brien No. 7) in the Huntington Beach oil field.

He related that he sat in his automobile in the beach oil town last March with Alexander.

Refer to Doctor

"Alexander wondered," Barnett testified, "if it would be possible for him to get a 2 per cent interest in the well and it would be issued to some doctor back in Chicago."

The doctor later was referred to without further identification as Dr. H. P. Gunnar.

"There was nothing said about what the 2 per cent would have to do with the redrilling of the well," Barnett said.

"I asked him if he knew anything further about granting the permit and he said he didn't believe it would be over two or three before it would be granted."

Tells Jury of Shooting

Songstress Ruth Etting, right, and her stepdaughter, Edith Snyder, enter the grand jury room at Los Angeles to tell their version of the bizarre Hollywood shooting of Myrl Alderman, Miss Etting's current mate, asserted by a jealous former husband, Martin Snyder. Alderman was expected to recover and Snyder was being held—(Acme Telephoto).

DRIVER ESCAPES INJURY AS MACHINE TURNS OVER TWICE

A car driven by George Calhoun, 1612 Louise street, was badly damaged at Shelton and Walnut streets yesterday afternoon but Calhoun escaped miraculously when the car and one driven by Mrs. Ethel A. Palacios, 110 Garfield street, collided.

As Calhoun drove east on Walnut and Mrs. Palacios, north on Shelton and the collision occurred, the Calhoun car overturned twice and landed upside down against a car belonging to Elmer Schneider, 1048 West Walnut.

ROOSEVELT HIT IN G. O. P. RALLY TALK

"We have got to put President Roosevelt in a position where he cannot do any more damage."

This was the theme developed by Joseph Scott, Los Angeles attorney and G. O. P. leader at a mass meeting of nearly 500 Republicans last night at Santiago Park, as he scored Culbert Olson and Sheridan Downey.

Of Olson Scott said: He is a man of whom California had never heard until he slipped into office on the coat-tails of Upton Sinclair four years ago.

Rap at Downey
"For that matter," he added, "who ever heard of Sheridan Downey until he started being an ex-Republican to end poverty in California."

Other speakers, introduced by Col. M. B. Wellington, county central committeeman and chairman of the meeting included Mayor C. T. Johnson, of San Bernardino; Adrian Marks, candidate for state assembly; and Assemblyman E. V. Latham, of Los Angeles, spokesman for Merriam and Franklin campaigns.

2 Women Sue For $30,000 Damages

Two women asked damage awards in excess of $30,000 today in superior court suits filed against Evelyn Harriett Hart and Fred G. Hart, in connection with a traffic crash at Culver avenue and Olive street, Orange, September 19.

Mrs. Frances Savage asked $15,000 for injuries she received while riding in a car driven by John Turner Solly, which collided with the Hart machine. Her husband, Russell Savage, asked $25 for x-ray expenses and an unstated sum for medical expenses of his wife.

The Solly car, sued for $15,000 for her injuries, $25 for x-ray expense, and an unstated sum for medical expenses.

Nippon Forces Near Canton

Kai-Shek to assume personal direction of the defenses in South China.

According to the dispatches, which quoted Chinese sources at Hong Kong, Gen. Li Tsung-Jen and Gen. Pai Chung-Hui, two of the "big three" generals of southwest China, made the appeal. They asked Chiang, it was said, to abandon his duties at Hankow and take command of the South China front.

Charges Neglect
It was noted here that this appeal followed a message by Eugene Chen, former Chinese foreign minister, to Cantonese leaders at Hankow, complaining that Chiang had decided that the defense of Hankow was more important than the defense of Canton and that he had taken from the Cantonese their airplanes and their best troops.

Three days ago, Japanese sources here asserted that they had received information that Chiang had moved his headquarters to a point between Hankow and Canton, so that he could command both the central and southern campaigns.

Seek Split
It was asserted that this move was part of an appeal by Gen. Yu Han-Mow, government pacification commissioner for Kwangtung province, through which Japanese troops are fighting their way toward Canton.

The coincidence of reported "appeals" from three Chinese sources revived interest in Japanese efforts to create a split between national and southern leaders of China and make a separate peace with Cantonese leaders.

British Guns Guard Mourners After Massacre

Sorrowing friends and relatives of 21 Jews massacred when Arabs burned 12 houses in the Jewish town of Tiberias, Palestine, are pictured in the photo at left above, as, protected by uniformed troops, they mourned at the victims' mass funeral. Soldiers are in the truck bearing some of the bodies. The crowd presses closely while Rabbi Asha Werner (in circle) of Providence, R. I., voices their grief. Even the funeral procession was considered to be in peril of attack, and an armored car led it out of Tiberias, as pictured at right.

British troops striving to maintain order in Palestine are constantly harassed by bands of Arab guerrillas. In the photo above, a turreted armored car is shown driving around a rock barricade erected by the terrorists to delay reinforcements sent to Tiberias. This Jewish town on the shore of the Sea of Galilee suffered a raid by Arabs in which 21 Jews were killed.

Grand Jury Hears Two Witnesses

counties of comparable population had sent no such number, Riverside having sent 62, Kern 73, San Joaquin 61 and Santa Clara 78.

More Statistics Given show that only 69 boys were sent by juvenile court to Preston in the five-year period, about half the number mentioned by Norton in the attack upon juvenile court affairs.

Mrs. Nora Allen, county probation officer, declared at the courthouse that for the five-year period they were: 19 in 1933, 10 in 1934, 15 in 1935, 11 in 1936 and 17 in 1937, making the total of 69. Mrs. Allen further pointed out that the other counties cited by the making charges against the juvenile court all have road camps, to which the older boys are sent.

It was hinted that these matters will be laid before the grand jury during the investigation.

Kaufman Testifies
The grand jury heard two witnesses yesterday afternoon. Attorney S. B. Kaufman of Anaheim, one of those attacked in the pamphlet, "Poole's Rush In," spent about an hour and a half with the grand jury. He was followed by Sheriff Logan Jackson, who appeared before the grand jury at his own request, he said.

S. C. Hartman, of Anaheim, member of the county probation committee in charge of the juvenile home, appeared outside of the grand jury room yesterday, but it was believed that he did not have opportunity to testify. Another prospective witness observed waiting was Mrs. C. W. Lipscomb, complaining witness against A. B. Cline, charged with giving marijuana cigarettes to a young girl, Cline was the grand jury earlier in the week.

Burt Harwick and Robert Elliott, asserted printers of the pamphlet, were arraigned today in Santa Ana justice court on charges of criminal conspiracy and criminal libel. Justice Chris Pann of Huntington Beach, sitting temporarily in Santa Ana court, released both men on their own recognizance, pending preliminary hearing set for October 31.

TO MAKE AMERICA "WINE CONSCIOUS"

FRESNO, Cal., Oct. 20.—(UP)—"Making America more 'wine-conscious' is the aim of a nationwide program of advertising and education to be launched next week by California vintners.

To finance the campaign, vintners on Monday will begin paying assessments of one and one-half cents per gallon on sweet wines and three-quarters of a cent on dry wines to the department of agriculture, which undertook the program at the request of 65 per cent of the state's winery interests. The payments are expected to raise $600,000 a year.

Predicting that the campaign would be well under way within two months, Samuel W. Harklerod of Fresno, director of the wine institute, said a 25 per cent increase in the nation's wine consumption was a possible effect of the program.

and 16 persons wounded, including two British policemen and a soldier.

Troops and British police controlled the Christian, Jewish and Armenian quarters and they had cordoned off the Moslem area. The prisoners were taken to David's Citadel, site of the fortification that David built in the 11th century before Christ after he had conquered the Jebusites and delivered Jerusalem for the first time to the Hebrews.

The rebels were fighting with modern arms—rifles and bombs—but with the strategy of antiquity. Military patrols, baffled by their sudden disappearances and reappearance around the vicinity of their mosques, found them using underground passages dating back to Biblical times. One passage, leading from Solomon's quarries was found to be an avenue of escape for the rebels.

Restore Order

There were 3000 soldiers in the Jerusalem area, and several hundred policemen and Jewish super-numeraries, trying to restore order.

The military occupation had succeeded in lifting the siege and restoring a semblance of order to all but the Moslem quarter, but the rebels' guerrilla tactics gave the British at best a perilous hold on the Jerusalem area, and left rebels still in control of almost two-thirds of Palestine.

Although they camped for the night within the old city walls, the troops avoided most of the Moslem quarter, especially the vicinity of the Mosque of Omar, adjoining the Church of the Holy Sepulcher at the fringe of the Christian quarter, and the Mosque of the Aksa. The rebels were concentrated at those places but an invasion by the British would be certain to cause Arabs to protest against violation of their sacred shrines.

Merriam Support By AFL Hit

Mooney, whose demands for a pardon have been backed nationally by the AFL, said Green was "a traitor to the American labor movement."

Accuses Merriam

Mooney, apparently still in a bitter mood after the U. S. Supreme court's refusal to review his case, accused Merriam of joining in asserted "vigilante" attacks against AFL strikers and charged Merriam with "stalling" on granting him a hearing for a pardon.

The AFL statement supporting Green charged Olson was in an "unholy alliance" with the CIO. It was issued by Joseph Casey, teamsters' international organizer, and signed by Thomas White, president of the San Francisco Warehousemen's Union, John McCarthy, of the Plasterers' Union and three other teamster officials in California.

16 Sentenced

Sixteen friars of the Franciscan monastery at Salzburg were reported already to have received prison sentences of from 10 days to one month on the charge that they threw furniture from monastery windows when the building was claimed as state property and they were expelled to leave. The prosecutor charged that the friars threw out the furniture to give the impression that secret police used violent methods to eject them. Witnesses testified that the friars resisted ejection. The friars denied malice, pleading that they threw the furniture out of the windows because they had no time to dispose of it otherwise.

HARBOR PATROL SEEK CLEAR CUT BOAT LAUNCHED VIEW OF BALLOT

Both county and city officials were present this morning for the launching of the new $600 Newport harbor patrol boat. The new craft was launched from the ways of the Payton Boat works. Design, specifications and construction of the new boat were under the direction of Harbormaster Thomas Bouche, skipper of the patrol boat.

The patrol craft, 34 feet long and with a beam of 10 feet, is powered by two 125 horsepower engines. The boat is equipped for the threefold function of fire fighting, harbor patrol and life saving operations. The boat with its two way radio communication will also be used for harbor patrol police work. Life saving equipment on the boat includes an inhaler.

The acquisition of the boat marks the first step in acquiring adequate fire protection for yachts anchored in Newport harbor.

DR. RUSSELL TALKS AT P.-T. A. PARLEY

With Mrs. Kenneth Green, president, in charge, the Edison school P.-T. A. met this week in the school auditorium for its regular session. Dr. Edward Lee Russell of the Orange county health department spoke on "Physical Development of the Child."

Mary Hughes' third grade pupils demonstrated school activity for physical development. The third grade mothers were hostesses for the evening. Mrs. Clifford Ranney and Mrs. C. W. Abernathy were in charge of refreshments.

Mrs. Nellie Hughes' class won the prize for the most parents in attendance at the meeting. A parade of folks for the P.-T. A. kitchen replaced the usual penny donations by the members at the end of the meeting.

The school carnival will be held Thursday, October 27. All children of the school have requested to come in costume.

GRIPPED BY MISERY OF A SORE THROAT! (DUE TO A COLD)

Do this NOW—go after it with direct treatment. Melt a small lump of Vicks VapoRub on the tongue. Feel the common cold trickles down—bathing the irritated membranes—bringing blessed relief—where you want it—when you want it.

Then TONIGHT—massage throat, chest and back with VapoRub. Its poultice-vapor action loosens phlegm—clears air-passages—eases coughing—relieves local congestion.

This 2-STEP METHOD is one of the proved ways of using VapoRub that have made it a family standby in more homes than all other medications of its kind.

10 NEW PLAYERS SCHEDULED TO APPEAR IN FRIDAY SHOW

With a cast demanding twenty-eight players, "Counsellor-at-Law," the Community Players' production to be presented Friday and Saturday nights in Ebell clubhouse, will introduce no less than ten new Players to the local boards.

"Forsaken?"

Said to be unusually fine even in a Community Players cast that is distinguished by excellent character acting, Dorothy Hicks (Mrs. Norman Hicks) will portray a little woman of the east side in "Counsellor-at-Law," opening tomorrow night in Ebell auditorium.

come when he can get his note off after one or two trials. The message can be one word, and his initials. Grandma or Aunt Eleanor will treasure that first note above all others.

Trained from the beginning the children form the habit of thankfulness; and if there is one more sustaining, more unifying, in the years of our sojourn on this earth, I haven't met with it. Thankfulness for the beauty of the world, the nobility of its people, our friends, for the grace of God, gives one an attitude toward life that be-littles grief and magnifies joy.

Mr. Patri has prepared a special booklet (No. 301) entitled, "Obedience," in which he tells parents how to cope with the difficult problems of disobedience. Send for it, enclosing ten cents. BEACH CITY RECREATION SET-UP CHANGED

CITY COUNCIL ADOPTS REPORT

LAGUNA BEACH, Oct. 20.—The city council, during a protracted session and before a crowded house, transacted much civic business last night, outstanding item of which was disbanding of the city recreation commission, as at present existing, and revamping of the whole setup.

The council's action following the reading and unanimous adoption of a report, the outcome of a two months' investigation carried on by Councilman Hugh K. Peabody and Charles H. Jester.

Resolutions presented following the adoption of the report, Councilman Peabody offered a resolution which, in effect, re-named the entire present personnel, under one-year terms, with provision for inclusion of "all duly constituted civic and service organizations desirous of being represented on the board."

Another resolution was presented by Councilman Randolph H. Balmbridge, himself a member of the recreation board, confirming the present set-up, continuing its activities, and providing staggered terms of from three years to one year for its nine members.

A long discussion followed, in the course of which Peabody stated that "public interest in recreation was more important than the interests of the few WPA workers assigned to recreation in Laguna Beach."

The reference was to the existing situation, under which all recreation workers are assigned and paid by WPA, with the city as sponsor.

Plan Adopted

On vote, the Peabody resolution was adopted, 3-2, with Balmbridge and Mayor Heister voting "no." The Balmbridge resolution failed for want of a second. As stated, all members of the existing commission are subject to reappointment under the new set-up, which is the outcome of a demand made on August 17 by the civic betterment committee of the American Legion. No change is contemplated in the administrative routine, under which, with Police Chief Gene B. Woods as sponsor, representative, and W. R. Tattersfield, supervising WPA recreation worker as foreman of the group on various projects, funds allocated by the city council will be expended.

Trio's Programs Draw Attention

OCEANVIEW, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Concepcion Maldonado and her two daughters, Eliza and Mary, neither of whom understands one note of music, are attracting attention because of their musical programs presented before club groups and radio stations.

Members of the trio play either the mandolin or guitar and sing in the most approved Latin style. This week the "Trio Maldonado" entertained a musical held at Los Alamitos and next Sunday participate on the program to be given at Montebello stadium. They are to appear on a Long Beach radio program at a later date. They have appeared on Los Angeles radio stations and have presented their programs in Huntington Park Santa Ana, Huntington Beach and various other places.

Since childhood Mrs. Maldonado has composed music, none of her compositions having been set down or published. Arranging her music, Mrs. Maldonado plays and sings her new numbers until her daughters learn them.

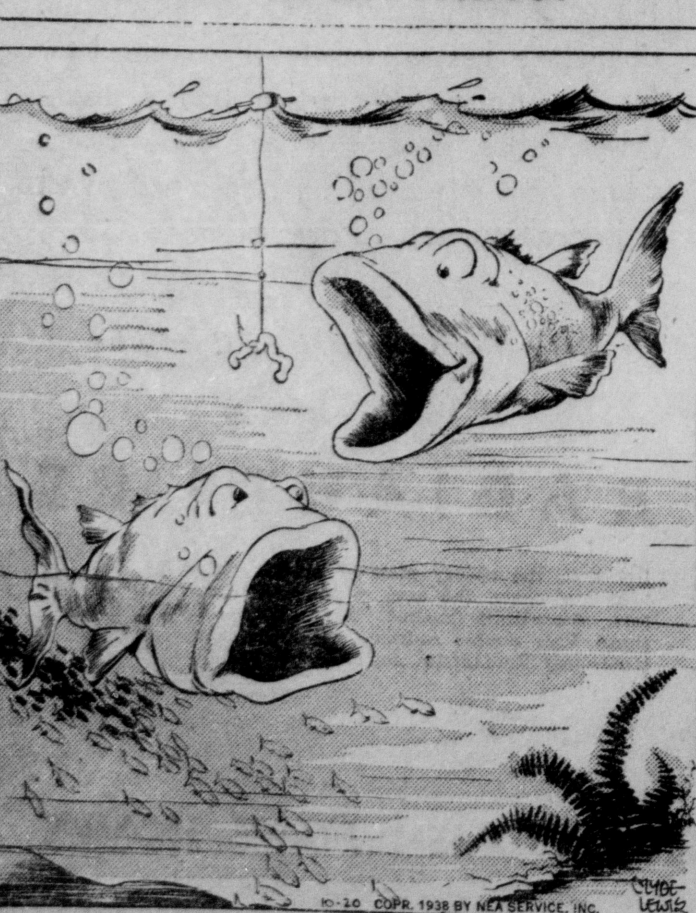

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED

OCEANVIEW, Oct. 20.—Delores Boudreaux observed her 10th birthday with a party given at her home recently. A lovely white frosted birthday cake was served with ice cream and candy at a table which was gay in a decorative scheme of black, green and orange.

Guests included Willette Rowley, Grace Rowley, Anita Biscailuz, Beverly Biscailuz, Pauline Hamm, Lloyd Hamm, Ida Kratz, Gilbert Taylor, Ronnie Williams, Peggy Williams, Betty Tunstall, Sarah Jean McIntosh, Floyd Whitney and Merlin Boudreaux.

Mrs. Grace Owen Services Friday

COSTA MESA, Oct. 20.—Funeral services for Mrs. Grace B. Owen, 56, who died at her home at 231 Newport road Tuesday evening, will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow at Melrose Abbey mausoleum, with the Dixon chapel of Huntington Beach in charge.

A native of Denver, Colo., Mrs. Owen was a member of the Los Angeles Eagles lodge auxiliary and was known throughout Southern California for her activity in the organization.

She is survived by her husband, Forrest B. Owen, state representative of the Eagles lodge; her father, M. B. Bennett, New York City; a brother, Walter Bennett, Denver; and three sisters, Mamie Bennett, New York City; Mrs. Phil Damm, Chicago, and Mrs. D. F. Cooper, Denver.

The Rev. Luther Arthur, pastor of the Baptist church of Huntington Beach, will officiate at the rites. Interment will be made at Melrose Abbey mausoleum.

GRADE PUPILS GIVE PROGRAM

BUENA PARK, Oct. 20.—Dr. Mabel Geddes spoke on "The Beginning School Child" Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Grand Avenue School P. T. A. Reylas Perry was program chairman for the evening and presented the seventh grade in two plays, "Seaman's Luck" and "At the Gates of Alhambra." The casts were composed of Cecil Farmer, Billy Hill, Stanley Smith, Vincent Ray, Kenneth Delich and Pete Ramos.

The pupils who were not in the plays were in costume and sang in chorus under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Detweller. Mrs. Helen Eison trained the cast. Miss Olive Watson gave two piano solos and Jack Tucker, of Fullerton, sang two solos. He was accompanied at the piano by Miss Dorothy Little, also of Fullerton.

The membership drive netted 143 members. The fourth and fifth grades were announced as winners in the drive and will receive a party for their efforts. All grades that received more than 100 per cent will receive a special treat. Mrs. Victor Lewis, membership chairman, distributed cards and year books containing the programs for the year. A trophy was awarded to Miss Bernice Dredla's grade for having the largest number of parents present.

Mrs. Charles Hillman announced a P. T. A. carnival at the Grand Avenue school Saturday beginning at 4 o'clock. Mrs. Marion Hill and Mrs. J. W. Schiller were hostesses.

Two Honored At Birthday Affair

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 20.—Celebrating a birthday anniversary of Betty Smith and Josephine Longsdon, a surprise picnic supper was planned this week by their mothers, Mrs. Emmett Smith and Mrs. D. P. Longsdon. The affair was held near the river bend on Garden Grove boulevard, where all gathered around a huge bonfire.

The girls were presented with many gifts including a large birthday cake, which was cut and served with the desert, course. After dinner games, contests and singing were enjoyed.

In the group were Mrs. Emmett Smith and daughter, Betty; Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Longsdon and daughters, Josephine and Georgia Jean, and son, Jim; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Simpson and son, Charles; Mrs. E. R. Barker and daughter, Betty Rae; Mrs. R. R. Rosselot and daughter, Margaret Ann; Mrs. Wynne Holt and daughter, Jean; Barbara Schreff, Wayne Lovett, Dale Bowler, Walter Clemmons, Harold Mutz and Lillard Blystone.

SPRINGDALE

SPRINGDALE, Oct. 20.—Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kettler have left for Detroit, where they will take delivery on a car for their son-in-law, Maurice Plumlee, of New Westminster.

Mrs. E. S. Roberson is entertaining as her house guest, a childhood friend, Mrs. Georgia Barrett who is spending some time in Hollywood. Mrs. Roberson and her guest attended a church dinner at Huntington Beach in company with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wentzel and guests who have joined them this week included Miss Stella Smith, Mrs. Elsie Laubach, Miss Grace Van Scoik, of Long Beach, and a cousin of Mrs. Roberson, Everette Curtis, of Los Angeles.

TALBERT

TALBERT, Oct. 20.—Robert Wardlow, who is an officer of the Williams Grange, and Mrs. Wardlow, attended Fringe sessions in Riverside this week.

The Rev. Ray Cook, pastor of the Methodist church, south, at Williams, and Mrs. Cook arrived Wednesday and Mrs. Cook making their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rogers in Talbert, while attending the church conference in Santa Ana. Mrs. Blanche Eckdahl and young son have left for their home in Chicago after a stay of two months with Mrs. Eckdahl's mother, Mrs. Anna Heim, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Talbert visited at Bell Gardens Sunday with the Rev. S. T. Turner, a former pastor of Talbert church, and Mrs. Turner, their son, Tom Turner, and wife and two children. The Talberts found the Rev. Mr. Turner, who has been seriously ill for many months, improved.

Bobbie Marshall, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marshall, is out of school with his right arm in a cast, the result of having broken both bones of the lower arm in a fall from a haystack while attending the barbecue at the Molala ranch Sunday.

BOULEVARD GARDENS

BOULEVARD GARDENS, Oct. 20.—Mr. and Mrs. Percy Payne, of Cypress, have rented the home of Mrs. Nelson in Boulevard Gardens. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Moulton attended the funeral of Mrs. Moulton's brother-in-law, James Howard, whose death occurred at Bakersfield.

Mrs. Harriette Hill, sister of Mrs. George Chamberland, who accompanied her home from Oregon when the Chamberlands made a recent visit in the north, has returned from St. Joseph hospital, where she underwent a major operation.

COMMITTEE TO MAKE STUDY OF LAGUNA'S PEDDLING LAW

LAGUNA BEACH, Oct. 20.—Pending an investigation of conditions surrounding sales by actual producers of the product of their farms, bee-hives, and other sources of food, a lessening of stringent enforcement of city ordinance 75, governing peddling, was ordered by the city council last night.

Following strongly worded protests by A. G. Lush, apiarist, Dawson Burks, local grocer, and Harold Reed, whose interest centers on watermelons, facts were brought out, tending to show that small growers of vegetables, etc., were being "harassed" by strict police enforcement of the ordinance which exacts an annual business fee of $15 from all persons engaged in "peddling."

Councilman Jester expressed sympathy with the individualist who, after raising his own produce, had the initiative to bring it to market himself. So, Jester, as police commissioner, was instructed to convey the "go easy" message to Police Chief Woods, while a committee of councilmen headed by Hugh K. Peabody studies the whole situation.

Following a 10-year effort to secure opening of an alley running from Coast boulevard to Beach street, one block in length behind Forest avenue, condemnation proceedings loom against the owner of two small pieces of property, who, alone among the property owners abutting on the alley in question, have refused to grant waivers or right of way for projected paving and improvement of the alley.

Plan Jitterbug Contest At H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 20.—Four jitterbugs will be selected at next Sunday's jitterbug dance to be held in the civic auditorium under the sponsorship of the city council. The four will compete in the jitterbug contest at the Anaheim Halloween festival.

Two couples will be selected from the following couples: Morrey Young, Phyllis Riley, Cotton Foster, Gene Craft, Herman Walker, Rosie Kraft, and Lucky Wells, Millie Wardlow.

CLUB TOLD OF NEW MEASURES

COSTA MESA, Oct. 20.—Information on the propositions to be voted upon at the November election was given members of the Costa Mesa-Newport Harbor Lions club meeting Tuesday at Bay Shore cafe by Dr. George Bemis, professor of government at U. C. L. A. The speaker was introduced by Sidney Davidson, Newport Harbor Union High school principal.

Eddie Moore, who with Mrs. Moore has just returned from a vacation trip which included stays at Grand Canyon, Zion National Park, Salt Lake City, Reno and other points of interest, related details of his trip. Experiences in learning a baker's trade as a boy in Europe were detailed by Anton Wack.

Frank Bull, sportscaster for a large oil company, is to be the speaker at the meeting next Tuesday. A. L. Pinkley will be program chairman for the day.

tute, Gladstone, Eunice Mary, Sarah Jean and Arthur McIntosh and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McIntosh.

CLUB MEMBERS HOLD LUNCHEON

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Oct. 20.—The Capistrano Woman's club held its monthly meeting Tuesday serving a 1 o'clock luncheon in the parlors of the Community church. Hostesses for the day were Mrs. John Ray, Mrs. C. C. Callis, Mrs. E. A. Nydegger, Mrs. S. M. Bathgate and Mrs. Henry S. Barnes.

Mrs. Tom Forster, president of the club, called the meeting to order, and after a short business session, the meeting was turned over to the program chairman, Mrs. F. W. Rogers.

Miss Marguerite Estudillo, music instructor of the Capistrano grammar school, opened the program with a music selection, given by four members of her school orchestra, Gania Demaree, Mary Violet Bathgate, Paula Fox and Virginia Speer.

Paul H. Demaree, principal of the high school, gave a talk on "Helping the Child To Find Its Place in the World." He stressed the need for vocational guidance rather than vocational dictation.

Mrs. Robert Calhoun, chairman of home economics, announced the next meeting of the section would be held at the home of Mrs. H. S. Barnes, November 1. The bridge section will meet November 1 at the home of Mrs. Russell Cook.

DRAINAGE WORK FINISHED

WINTERSBURG, Oct. 20.—Improvement work on the Bolsa Drainage system, which includes territory north of Bolsa through this section to the ocean, is being completed this week. The improvements cost approximately $2500 and were under direction of the district's directors, W. F. Slater and Jord Sork.

Improvements included a new pump and a new section of pipe line 1200 feet in length.

HOME BUILDERS ENTER CONTEST

Many local home builders and contractors are hastening to enter a unique competition in which $10,000 in monetary awards will be presented for the most carefully planned and constructed gas-equipped dwellings erected before July 31, 1939. It was learned today from Fred G. Merker, manager of Southern Counties Gas company.

Sponsored by the American Gas association and designed to stimulate the building industry over the country, the contest is open to all builders and contractors in the United States and Canada. Both new homes and modernized ones may be entered in competition, Merker stated.

The great interest it is arousing here and elsewhere is due to the fact that this is the first time any such contest has ever been attempted, he declared.

Last year the gas association sponsored a similar contest for architects, presenting 24 awards to architects and home designers for the best designs of modern gas equipped dwellings.

Bewildered Principals In Love Tangle

New sensations in Hollywood's tangled love drama which involved the shooting of Myrl Alderman by Martin Snyder wove a maze of complications around Ruth Etting. The actress and radio singer here is shown (center) with Snyder's daughter, Edith, and Assistant District Attorney Edwin Myers. The two women took part in the struggle with Snyder, ex-husband of Miss Etting, who claims to be the wife of Alderman, although no record has been found. She is the target of a $150,000 alienation of affections suit brought by Alderman's second wife.

RAPS RADICALS IN S. A. SPEECH

Declaring that the possibility of the state of California getting out of the "relief business" was hopeless, C. E. Triggs, assistant administrator of the state relief department, yesterday sounded a note of warning to members of the Santa Ana Kiwanis club against "radical labor leaders."

"The significance of recent events on the labor front lies not in the immediate present but in the far reaching trends that are becoming more apparent," Triggs said.

Sees Dangerous Trend
"In the recent San Francisco clerks' strike, the day after the strike was called the organizer called upon the state relief offices for assistance to the strikers."

"When we refused to assist them with relief they threw a picket line around the relief offices and a week later the WPA office asked us to certify the strikers to them for relief work. That is what I term a dangerous trend in the thinking of these workers."

"A week ago last Monday the relief office of the state was called to Bakersfield in connection with a C.I.O. strike called among the cotton pickers. The farmers of the country side couldn't get any of the federal relief workers to pick their cotton since a federal regulation prohibits placing men at work where a strike is in existence. This, in my opinion, is another dangerous trend," Triggs said.

Cites Partial Solution
Within the last year, Triggs stated, on 12 different occasions when he was asked to supply relief to strikers and refused on the grounds that the state could not afford the expense he was told—"the sooner the present government breaks down the better we'll like it."

Solution to at least part of the problem was in the careful selection of public officials who would watch out for the public interest, Triggs said.

President Maurice Enderle introduced Ross Crane, assistant farm advisor in charge of 4-H club work who presented Bruce Johnston, leader of the Kiwanis, sponsored Blue and Gold club of Tustin. Johnston introduced five members of the club who reported on the activity of the organization. The youthful agriculturalists who spoke at the meeting were: Billy Uim, Johnny Barnes, Charles Shoemaker, Richard Parks, and Denny Hayden. Chester Hawk was program chairman for the day.

Places Blame

In a hearing marked by bitterness before the President's Railway Wage Fact-Finding Commission in Washington, W. Jett Lauck, above, economist for the railway brotherhoods, declared a "small inner group" of bankers, symbolized by J. P. Morgan & Co., inspired the proposed 15 per cent wage cut and were generally responsible for the plight of the roads. His statements were angrily challenged by J. Carter Frost, railroad counsel.

Health Topic At P.-T. A. Meeting

The regular meeting of the Lincoln P.-T. A. was held at the school Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. John C. James, president, presiding. Mrs. Ralph Barker was program chairman. The topic was "Health Improvement as a Goal for Home and School." Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health head, was the speaker.

The moving pictures shown through the courtesy of the Tuberculosis association were "Let My People Live" and "Behind the Shadows." A social hour followed the meeting, with Mrs. Ben Beasley and Mrs. R. H. Reynolds acting as hostesses.

Much enthusiasm was evidenced today as the Lincoln school made final preparations for the school carnival to be held Friday evening at the school. There will be booths in the halls for the sale of ice cream, candy, pop corn, cake and pie. Games will be enjoyed by both old and young. A special feature of the evening's performance will be a variety program under the direction of Mrs. Ralph Barker.

TARIFF POLICIES HIT BY BANCROFT

BRAWLEY, Cal., Oct. 20. (Special)—Striking hard at the present tariff policies, Philip Bancroft, Republican nominee for the United States Senate, today pledged himself to fight against the importation of cheap foreign agricultural products.

Bancroft, himself a farmer from Walnut Creek, addressed an open air meeting of farmers and city residents here.

"The home markets must be saved for the American farmer," Bancroft declared. "Most of our farm distress is attributable directly to the fact that our markets are being glutted with foreign farm products, produced at unbelievably low wage scales and under the cheapest kind of conditions."

Bancroft specifically condemned the government's recent reciprocal trade agreements, and cited as examples the importation of bananas and sugar.

"They say bananas cannot be produced in this country and so should not be taxable," Bancroft declared. "But the human stomach can hold only so much, and if you fill it with foreign bananas, there will be no room left for California fruits."

OPENING OF HOTEL ALEXANDRIA HAILED

Opening of Hotel Alexandria in Los Angeles next week is stirring thousands of sentimental memories throughout the country, according to M. E. Morrison, manager. The rest of the world may greet the occasion as the dedication of California's newest and finest hostelry but a whole generation of middle-aged Californians and world travelers are regarding it as the re-birth of an era of pleasant living.

Reservations by the hundreds are coming to Mr. Morrison from people who enjoyed Hotel Alexandria hospitality during the third of a century when it was the center of social, political, and business life on the Pacific Coast.

Nearly one half million dollars has been spent in completely modernizing the hotel for its opening next Tuesday.

Four Sets Of Twins Their Record

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Bates of Los Angeles lay claim to some sort of a new record when Mrs. Bates gave birth to her fourth set of twins in a Huntington Park hospital. FRIENDLINESS AND APPEARANCE VITAL FOR CHARM ON CAMPUS

SAN JOSE, Oct. 20.—There are two main qualities a coed must have for campus charm. One is a friendly manner the other is a good appearance, believes Miss Pauline Lynch, costume and personality instructor in the home economics department at San Jose State College.

Speaking before a luncheon club meeting of freshman girls, Miss Lynch gave pointers on cultivating a charming and pleasing personality.

Needs Cultivation
"Every college girl can have charm," she declared. "Our standard of modern beauty is cleanliness above all things. Charm is a practical thing we all have, but which needs definite cultivation." Miss Lynch told coeds to "show an interest in the person sitting beside you in class—or anywhere." "Just put yourself in another person's place," she advised, "and be interested in people. It is important to have a well modulated voice and be able to adjust oneself to any situation—that's poise."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 IS HIT BY COUNCIL

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Answering the claim that Proposition No. 4 on the November ballot would keep highway construction and highway control out of politics, Guy C. McDonald, chairman of the California traffic safety council and commissioner of fire prevention and public safety, today charged that it would establish "a powerful political machine" with ramifications that "would extend to almost every phase of government."

Challenging the private interests sponsoring the proposition, which would set up a new high-salaried highway commission with ten-year terms of office, McDonald said:

"The claim that this high-salaried commission, promoted by private interests but financed by taxpayers' money, would be non-political is not borne out by the actual facts. The evidence to the contrary is conclusive and, on the basis of sound reasoning, is not debatable. The proposition would establish a five-man commission whose salary alone would total $30,000 a year. They would have full power over highway construction and control."

CHILD PERSONALITY SUBJECT OF TALK

With an address by Mrs. Nell Hunt on "Safeguarding the Personality of the Child" featuring the session, McKinley school P.-T.A. met in the school auditorium for the regular meeting yesterday.

Mrs. Albert Garthe, president of the McKinley P.-T.A., presided. Entertainment was furnished by Miss Katherine Chapman's fourth grade pupils who sang Halloween numbers. Mrs. Evangeline Stark's second grade class was presented with a silver cup which they recently won in a membership drive. The cup was presented by Mrs. Cecil Wilson. Joanne Franklin, a pupil in the class, gave the response. Miss Chapman's class also won the prize for the most mothers in attendance at the meeting.

Miss Gertrude Pott's sixth grade mothers were hosts during the social hour. At an Executive session, it was decided to present Alva Brower, ventriloquist, and his three assistants at an entertainment to be given at the school auditorium Monday November 7. Two programs have been planned, one at 3 p.m. and another at 7:30 p.m.

Henderson Speaks At Wilson School

Superintendent of Schools Frank A. Henderson was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Woodrow Wilson P.-T.A. Henderson's topic was "The Schools Look to the Future."

Allene and Tomie Sue McCristy entertained the group with duets from light opera. Refreshments were served by sixth grade mothers. The latter won the attendance award.

Carnival time at Woodrow Wilson school was announced as next Friday from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. Tea will be served in the afternoon and dinner from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. Many new and entertaining booths have been added to the carnival this year. P.-T.A. members announced.

MOTHERS HOLD SESSION
A grade mothers' tea was held recently at the Franklin school. Mrs. J. C. Rich, hospitality chairman, introduced the mothers and teachers. Three representatives from each room were present.

REGISTER CARRIERS TO ENJOY PICTURE

Between 60 and 75 boys of The Register carrier staff will enjoy another free theater party at the State tomorrow night beginning at 6:50 o'clock as the result of a cooperative move between The Register management and State theater operators. R. M. Conklin, Register circulation manager, announced today.

The boys, who are permitted to enjoy such parties from time to time, will see a variety program tomorrow, including Singer Gene Autry in the featured role of "The Man from Music Mountain," a fast moving story which opens with a fake mining promoter in Los Angeles selling worthless stock in an old, deserted town's nearby mine. The scenes then change to the townsite as crowds re-build the town and Autry attempts to outwit the wily scoundrel. Smiley Burnette and Ivan Miller also are in the cast.

Many Other Features
Other features on the program include "Flaming Frontiers," Episode 1, starring Johnny Mack Brown, with pretty Eleanor Hansen, Ralph Bowman, Charles Middleton and Chief Thunder Cloud among the cast. The picture recalls the dangers, courage and hardships of early pioneers who had to fight Indians and outlaws on the great trek west. It is based on Peter B. Kyne's novel, "The Tie That Binds." For authentic backgrounds, Universal sent 500 actors on location in the mountains for three weeks. More than 400 covered wagons, horses and oxen were assembled for the production.

On the same program will be "Many Sappy Returns," a Charlie Chase comedy; world news, and "Happy Scouts," a cartoon.

SCOUT WARNS DONS OF RED RAIDER CLASS

That Santa Ana junior college is in for a mighty tough evening of football Friday night in the Municipal Bowl was driven home today when Scout Beall, Coach Bill Cook's chief scout, completed his report on the 6-0 San Bernardino-Pomona game of last week, which the Indians won only on a touchdown pass that was protested by Pomona supporters.

"The Red Raiders are just about as good a ball club as San Bernardino," Beall informed Cook. The most improved member of the entire Pomona team is Captain "Bud" Gray, quarterback, who does most of the passing and a considerable amount of the ball-carrying, according to Scout Beall. Gray's runningmate at fullback is ten-foot Bruce Drummond, one of the fastest backs in the Eastern conference. He will be remembered by Don players and fans as the boy who circled their ends last year up at Pomona and nearly upset the Don apocryph when they were nursing a one-touchdown lead. Once he walked around the Don right end for 72 yards and a touchdown without a hand being laid on him, only to have the referee call the play back because of an offside penalty.

Other players in the Pomona backfield who will bear watching are Bob Cochrane, halfback; Ellsworth Booth, line plunging fullback; and Jack Hagen, blocking back. They all take their turns at packing the piskin.

Despite the old football adage that "the bigger they are the harder they fall" this does not apply to Bruce Twerrell and Ernie Richards, 300-pound guards on Pomona's first string line. Both boys gave San Bernardino more trouble than all the rest of the linemen. Jack Nickerson, who plays guard on offense, drops in to the backfield on defense to back up the line and Beall says he's the best defensive fullback he has seen.

The probable starting Don lineup was announced by Cook as Co-Captain Johnny Joseph and Jimmie Nunez, ends; Ed Becker and Gil Nehrig, tackles; John Kotlar and Don Schmoeck, guards; Jack Lentz, center; Larry Monroy, quarter; Vic Lindskog and Rollo Beck, halfbacks; and Dick Saunders, full. Both Dale Mickelwait and Dick Horton, regular running guards, are out with minor injuries and probably will not see much service. Carroll Joy, who has been starting at end, was reported out of the game because of illness.

Past Don-Raider scores:
1932—Santa Ana 14, Pomona 6.
1933—Santa Ana 25, Pomona 10.
1934—Santa Ana 19, Pomona 3.
1935—Santa Ana 26, Pomona 0.
1936—Santa Ana 26, Pomona 0.
1937—Santa Ana 14, Pomona 0.

POSTPONE BOUT ON 'COMIC OPERA' DAY

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—(UP)—Light Heavy Champion John Henry Lewis resumed training today and Challenger Al Garner went to the doctor for a sinus treatment following a one-week postponement of their 15-round title fight, scheduled tomorrow night.

Climaxing a comic opera day in which the governor amended Connecticut's boxing laws and Garner was taken into custody on a body writ, the postponement was ordered last night when it was learned that Al was suffering from a severe sinus condition.

The New Haven Negro had complained of a cold and head pains for several days, and Dr. Francis Foley, commission physician, discovered the sinus infection. He informed the other commissioners, and Chairman Frank Cosley announced the postponement to Oct. 25.

The physical examination followed Garner's release from the writ sworn out by Billy Black, a former Negro pugilist, who came out of a card game scuffle several months ago with a broken jaw. He told the judge it was Garner's knuckles that had collided with his jawbone, and was awarded a $2500 judgment. Garner has been promising to pay it, he said.

Garner played hide and seek with two deputy sheriffs all day yesterday, but was finally caught off base and taken into court early in the evening. Nathan Podoloff, manager of the New Haven arena, where the fight is scheduled, posted a $5000 bond to secure his freedom. Garner is expected to get between $4000 and $5000 as his 12 per cent end of the purse.

Earlier Gov. Wilbur Cross signed an amendment to the boxing laws providing for decisions by a referee and two judges in all world, sectional and state boxing

TROJAN SQUAD OFF FOR NORTH

(By United Press)
LOS ANGELES—Coach Howard Jones leaves with a squad of 37 USC players tonight for San Jose to await Saturday's game with Stanford at Palo Alto. He planned to use the same lineup as against Ohio State except that Ray Wehba, left end, goes into the backfield to replace Ambrose Schindler.

LOS ANGELES—Coach Bill Spaulding juggled the UCLA backfield today for the Idaho game Saturday. Frances Wai, an Hawaiian, goes in at quarter, and John Balde, a former quarter, at full. Bruins were somewhat more encouraged after the varsity scored seven touchdowns against the goofs who have been ploughing through the varsity recently with Idaho plays.

(By United Press)
PHOENIX, Ariz.—Arkansas' Razorbacks were en route to San Francisco today for a Saturday engagement with Santa Clara after a brief halt here in which they paraded through city streets with their school band. The southern gridders worked out at Tucson before their arrival here.

SEATTLE—Washington's Huskies concentrated on a strong offense today in strategy planned for the Saturday attack they expect to launch against California. Coach Jimmy Phelan ran his crew through all the offensive tricks in the bag.

PULLMAN, Wash.—Washington State's Cougars decided today that a strong running attack would be their most effective weapon against Oregon State at Portland Saturday. The Cougars decided to hold down their aerial offensive against the Beavers' effectiveness against this style of play.

EUGENE, Ore.—Howard Hobson, basketball and baseball coach on the University of Oregon campus, returned to take Washington into camp after a flying trip to New York in which he made final arrangements for basketball invasion of the east in December.

PALO ALTO—Stanford's Cardinals perfected their aerial defense today with Coach "Tiny" Thornhill indicating that the Indians would "open up wide" against U.S.C. Saturday. Yesterday's drill was light. There was no scrimmage.

PERKNEY—Thirty-eight California Bears leave by train for Seattle at 4:45 p. m. today confident of their ability to take Washington into camp at Seattle Saturday. Coach Stub Allison, deeply satisfied with his squad's last workout, predicted they would play their best game of the season. The Bears will go through a light workout in Portland Friday afternoon.

NEALS, AL'S SCORE IMPRESSIVE WINS

That T. J. Neal's Sporting Goods and Al's Lock and Key Shop gives of the Y. M. C. A. basketball league will be heard from in the future contests was definitely established last night when they vanquished opening game opposition with comparative ease. Some fans have already tabbed them as top flight pennant contenders.

Neal's team put on a second-half rally to best the Barr Lumber company, 38-28 and Al's five took an early lead and held it throughout to drub the Famous Department store, 39-22.

Tommy Lacy, Neal forward, captured scoring honors with 19 points. Hal Eastman with 15 points was high man for Al's five. Tonight at 8 two of the league's pre-season favorites—Irvine and Ellittes—clash in what may be one of the best games of the first round schedule.

BOB KENESTON DEFENDS MAT CROWN HERE

Defending his crown for the third time since winning it several weeks ago, Bob Keneston, junior heavyweight champion, wrestles Alvin Britt, former champion, at the Orange County Athletic club tonight. This will be the second time Keneston has put his title on the line at the O. C. A. C.

Three nights after winning the crown, Keneston met Bobby Wagner, twice Olympic wrestling champion of Germany, in a title match. The match had been made before Keneston threw Dude Chick in an upset at Hollywood, and he refused to call it off.

Britt lost the title two years ago to Chick on a one-fall decision and protested the loss of his title on a "short" decision but was refused a return match. He has followed the former Wyoming cowboy over the nation to challenge him and last Thursday flopped Chick in an elimination match here.

When Keneston meets Britt he will depend on his original "neck swivel" hold while Britt will depend on his famous "arm breaker."

In the three-fall finish match Promoter "Bud" Levin is presenting one team as opposed to "Tarzan" Orth and Steve Tsakoff, two of the roughest "goons" in the mat game.

In the 30-minute curtain raiser "Bolo" Ben Pilar, the clever Filipino, meets Hugh Adams.

OREGON PRACTICES AGAINST RAM PLAYS

RYE, N. Y.—(UP)—Coach "Tex" Oliver ran his Oregon university regulars against Fordham plays at the Westchester Country club grounds today in preparation for their intersectional game in New York Saturday.

The Oregon team limbered up upon arrival yesterday, worked hard today and will taper off tomorrow.

The team was feted at a luncheon at Jack Dempsey's, then taken on a tour of the Empire State building before quartering here.

WHITE LEADS PRO FOOTBALL SCORERS

NEW YORK — (UP) — Byron (Whizzer) White of the Pittsburgh Pirates, continued to lead National Professional league football goal scorers today though the Pirates were idle last week.

White's total of 216 yards put him nine ahead of Max Krause, Washington, who has gained six more than Scrapper Farrell of Brooklyn. Krause's 207 yards in 23 attempts for an average of nine yards a try, however, is by far the best in the league.

Sammy Baugh of Washington continued to lead in forward pass effectiveness with a .605 average for 23 completions in 38 attempts.

Reveal 'Inside' Story Of Ruth's Ouster

NEW YORK—(UP)—Larry MacPhail, general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, sought today to further clarify the Dodgers' announcement that Babe Ruth was "not available" for coaching duties following appointment of Leo Durocher as manager.

"Because of some misleading statements regarding the selection of Brooklyn coaches," MacPhail said, "I want to point out that the statement that Ruth was 'not available' was made at Ruth's own request. The Brooklyn club believes that any manager is entitled to name his own coaches. Their selection was left entirely to Durocher and his first choices were 'Chuck' Dressen and Bill Killefer."

Ruth, who sent a letter to the club "wishing all the Dodgers good luck," refused to reopen the argument as to whether "I am available or not."

Wes Ferrell To Enroll As Stanford Pupil
STANFORD UNIVERSITY—(UP)—University officials revealed today that Wesley Ferrell, veteran pitcher who joined the New York Yankees late this season, intends to enroll at Stanford this week. Ferrell, who spent three years at Northwestern 14 years ago, has been offered a job as a sports writer, it was learned, and plans to complete a course in journalism here in preparation for his new work.

WEST WINDS HERE AND THERE IN SPORT

Accompanied by Mac Beall, last year's Don handy-man and Dick Tauber, Coach Ted Bank of the University of Idaho is due in town tomorrow for a "buddle" with certain members of this season's Jaycee squad. All three probably will remain over for the Santa Ana-Pomona contest. As matters stand now, Beall is getting further than any of last year's Don grid graduates. He's a semi-regular at Idaho whereas "Rusty" Roquet, Danny Boyd, Tauber, McLennan, Joe Crawford and the others (except Blas Mercurio) are playing second fiddle on the big time. Mercurio, of course, is getting by nicely, at a minor school, Redlands....

Ghosts are walking these days on East Clayton field, where the Saint sophomore grid team is being whipped into shape. Clarence Harvey, midget brother of Assistant Coach Guy Harvey, onetime Saint star, works at center. Paul Higashi, brother of Hideo and George, is one of the guards. Wallace Amiling, brother of Orange's Ray (now first string end for the Calfresh) plays left end and Bill Guiley, son of La Verne Guiley, onetime Saint sprinter, is the team's star back....

What do you think Pomona's scouts reported to Head Coach Joe Bonnet about Santa Ana's Dons? Here it is:

"Bonnet expects Santa Ana to have a team that is better than San Bernardino. The Don's boast a more varied attack, with more strength in their running plays than the Indians, although the latter showed spurts of power on the ground. A consistent running attack probably would make the Don's favorites. Santa Ana doesn't sit around picking daisies. Those who saw the Citrus game described the Dons as the hardest playing outfit Coach Bill Cook has had in years, with every player ready to fight at the drop of a hat. They suffered two penalties against Citrus for unnecessary roughness. Besides that, Ted De Vellis, end, was put out of the game for suggesting the Dons get penalized half the distance to the goal line. They say both teams roughed it up."

"The Dons CAN be stopped on line plays, the report continues, 'but they throw one pass after another, on first down or any other down, and anywhere and everywhere. The Raiders need all their great pass defense, shown in the San Bernardino game, to keep the Dons from skidding to victory. Timken, Borden, Monroy and Saunders do most of the passing. The payoff may come through the air, for Pomona's line demonstrated against San Bernardino that it can stop just about as fast an attack as they want to shoot at it'....

Can't say I blame Fullerton for not shifting the blame Thanksgiving Day tussle to the Santa Ana Bowl. While this would mean a difference of several hundred dollars to both schools it would take the psychological advantage from the Yellowjackets and give it to the Dons. And, this year, Fullerton thinks it has one of those "destiny teams" that with a break or two could go through the conference program without a defeat....

The city's forestry board has granted the Jaycee permission to install temporary bleachers at the Bowl for any game it sees fit. Sellouts loom for three: Pomona (tomorrow), San Bernardino (next week) and Chaffey (Nov. 11).... The board also allows the Jaycee Engineering club exclusive use of the vacant lot north of the stadium for parking, all receipts going into the club's treasury....

Bookies here are floating "football parlays," laying out 4-1 you can't pick three winners from a list of 16 important Saturday games, 8-1 against four winners, and against up to an even up to 1000-1 against sweeping the entire card. They'll give you six points if you want Stanford against S. C. and six if you like Nebraska against Oklahoma....

PITT TO OPEN 1939 CARD WITH HUSKIES

PITTSBURGH — (UP) — Pitt's Panthers will open their 1939 football season in Seattle against Washington next Sept. 30 and close nine-game schedule against Penn State Nov. 25.

After next season, all of Pitt's football scheduled will consist of more than eight games between the first of October and the end of November, as provided under the university's new athletic code. The 1939 schedule:

Sept. 30, Washington at Seattle; Oct. 7, West Virginia at the stadium; Oct. 14, Duke at Pittsburgh; Oct. 21, Duquesne at Pittsburgh; Oct. 28, Fordham at New York; Nov. 4, Temple at Philadelphia; Nov. 11, Carnegie Tech. at Pittsburgh; Nov. 18, Nebraska at Pittsburgh; Nov. 25, Penn State at State college.

LOS ANGELES—The Pacific Coast conference title race, already reduced to a contest between California and the field, will be narrowed further Saturday in two games that may provide an answer to the annual Far West question of who will play in the Rose Bowl.

The Golden Bears extended their victory stream to five straight at the expense of U.C.L.A. with a fine show of power that stamped them again as a true contender of Santa Clara for the title of the strongest team on the coast. This week they take on the first of their four strongest opponents—Washington—in one of the conference's two big games.

If California wins—and on form the Bears should—the anti-Bears fans must choose their white hope from the U.S.C.-Stanford battle. As between them these teams threw 37 passes for gains of 254 yards while defeating Washington State and previously unbeaten

Claim Don Budge Already Signed To Pro Contract

SALT LAKE CITY—(UP)—Dave Freed, secretary of the International Tennis association, today quoted a tennis professional as saying that Don Budge has been signed for several weeks to a professional tour for a one year period.

Freed quoted Walter Senior, who made a pro tour last year with Ellsworth Vines and Fred Perry. Senior said that Jack Harris, Chicago promoter, had disclosed Budge's signing as a professional during a visit here in September.

"Senior told me that Budge had okayed a contract for a tour this winter," Freed said.

"Baron Gottfried von Cramm probably will be included in the plans for the tour," Freed said.

FOOTE STANDS PAT ON LEAP AGAINST BEARS

Santa Ana high school hopes for and half expects a football miracle to happen at Riverside tomorrow... A Saint eleven that hasn't taken a single game of its four starts is given an even chance to win from a Bear squad that is undefeated and untied.

Only reason for this optimism in the Walnut street camp is the apparent improvement of Coach Bill Foote's "Sinning Saints." Beaton (13-0) by powerful Pomona last week, Santa Ana nevertheless showed flashes of offensive prowess although Foote had virtually remade his entire lineup in one week's time. With a tough game and another week of practice under their belt, the Saints figure to make their best showing of the season.

This may not be enough because Riverside comes up to the contest with successive victories over Leuzinger of Inglewood, 18-12; Corona, 20-0, and Chaffey, 13-0. The Bears have been coming fast, completely outclassing a favored Chaffey outfit last week. Riverside's lineup, while mostly new, paradoxically contains experienced hands at key jobs because Coach Bill Muma substituted freely last season. Stars of the cast are Sophomore Stan Boyd, a hard-running quarterback, and Jim Bentley, line-cracking left halfback who is being plugged for the all-Citrus Belt selections. Bentley is a letterman and started against Santa Ana last year when the Saints, favored by two touchdowns, were caught napping in the first half and lost 9-6. If Riverside has a weakness for this season it is said to lack of reserves.

Coach Foote is going to stand pat on Santa Ana's lineup, starting substantially the same men who opened the Pomona struggle. Far from discouraged, Little Bill still thinks his struggling club has a chance to find itself and go on to the league championship, trusting that one or two of the other stars will come on confident or on an off-day. Any team with strong ends has a chance against Pomona which did not look as competent defensively as when it had the ball.

Only change in Saint tactics has been to give Tackle Bob Webb the assignment of calling plays in the huddle. Barney Robinson starts at quarter and Bob Musick at fullback with Gene Hamaker at left half, and either Wayne Piper or Ralph Barnes at right half. "Chuck" Pride and Bill Was open at end, Webb and Howard McMillan at tackle, Don Dunning and either Ray Mercado or Vernon Ashby at guard, and Ralph Shallenberger at center. Game time is 3 o'clock.

All by himself—and very uncomfortable, too—was Bob Van Lengen, Princeton halfback, pictured just as he was about to become the victim of a mass assault by a bevy of Pennsylvania tacklers in the Tigers' 13-0 victory over Penn at Princeton. Len Warner, on the ground, had missed his try at the ball carrier, but Bal Smith, No. 9; Stan Lorber, No. 34, and Rix Yard, No. 14, swooped down on Van Lengen just a split second later to complete the job very nicely.

So Don Budge Snubs $75,000! Ha, Ha, Ha!

NEW YORK—I firmly believe that witches ride the heavens on Brooms during all hallowe'en eve, that Easter eggs come directly from rabbits, and that two can live as economically as one, and that there is a pot of gold at the end of every rainbow.

So you see, I'm no skeptic. But there are things that I don't believe. I don't believe, for example, that a young man named Jack Harris ever offered John Donald Budge $75,000 in cash to quit being an amateur tennis player and become a professional. I just can't bring myself to a point where I can swallow the statement from Chicago that Harris had made such an offer and that Budge had turned it down.

In the first place, $75,000 is a lot of money for anybody named Harris to have on hand. That sort of negotiable confetti is associated only with persons named Morgan, Mellon or Rockefeller. Of course, this being the land of opportunity, it is possible that a Harris has it, but he is going to have to count it before my eyes—and in ones—before I believe it.

For some reason I can't connect a fellow capable of rustling up $75,000 in cash with a fellow who cares whether a tennis player stays amateur or professional.

But even if this Harris man counted out the bills before my eyes I wouldn't believe that Donald Budge ever turned them down. I have been watching Budge for four years now, and he never had given me any reason to believe that he is crazy. Off court and on court he has behaved like a fellow who possessed his full equipment of cerebellum stuff.

But small as I am (inspired I mean) I am not small enough to let my feeling Budge might have for me color my feelings toward him as a tennis player. He deserves all he can get out of professional tennis. He is a sportsman from his sneakers to the top of his head. His court manner always have been more than impeccable—they have always been those of a gentleman who wanted to win a point in but one way, by merit. And I believe him to be the greatest player of the game that ever lived.

He had read something I had said about him that he didn't like.

EXCELSIOR AND ANAHEIM MEET IN BEST GAME

'After five weeks of practice and preliminary skirmishes, both the Sunset and Orange County prep leagues begin their real football firing tomorrow afternoon.

Games are scheduled all over the section, but the standout attraction (on paper, at least) appears to be the clash between Excelsior and Anaheim, ranking favorites of the Sunset circuit. They clash at Excelsior, which is the high school for students of the Artesia-Norwalk-Brea flower district.

Other contests in the Sunset league: Orange at Newport Harbor; Huntington Beach at Jordan (North Long Beach). The schedule calls for the following Orange County league engagements: Valencia at Tustin; Laguna Beach at San Juan Capistrano; Garden Grove at Brea-Olinda.

Excelsior is Defending Champ
Last year Excelsior won the Sunset league with four wins against one defeat, that an upset by Newport Harbor. Anaheim and Harbor tied for second place with three wins, one defeat and one tie.

Excelsior graduated a raft of players from its squad, including Cal Barnes and the mammoth White twins, but the holdovers are many and efficient. Headed by Bennie LeCount, all-conference center, Excelsior boasts 15 lettermen, at least one for every position. The cross-roads team has three non-league games under its belt, beating Citrus 40-0 and San Bernardino 6-0 before dropping a 13-6 verdict to Corona.

Anaheim also lost many of its stars yet Dick Glover, who has what he terms about the best all-purpose club since he's been coaching in Anaheim. The Colonists' warm-up record is not overly impressive but better than it indicates for Anaheim has run up against three formidable teams. Covina nosed out Glover's men 12-6, Fullerton held 'em 0-0 and Tustin defeated them, 7-6.

Operating under a new coach (Dick Spaulding, last year's "B" team chieftain) Newport Harbor has even more of a "dark horse" than usual. The Tars were not particularly impressive, losing to Bonita and Garden Grove, yet came back last week to bury a fairly strong Laguna Beach eleven.

Orange, usually a contender, looks its weakest in recent years, although Coach Stewart White may gather together what is left of his material for a surprise or two.

Huntington Beach got off poorly, but Al Robin has his Ollers on the right track now, and they might take it all. Reboin believes this is the best club he's had in three years at Huntington Beach. The Ollers get a good test tomorrow for Jordan has a beefy gang that will extend them.

Tustin Favored in County Loop
It looks like Tustin all the way in the Orange league.

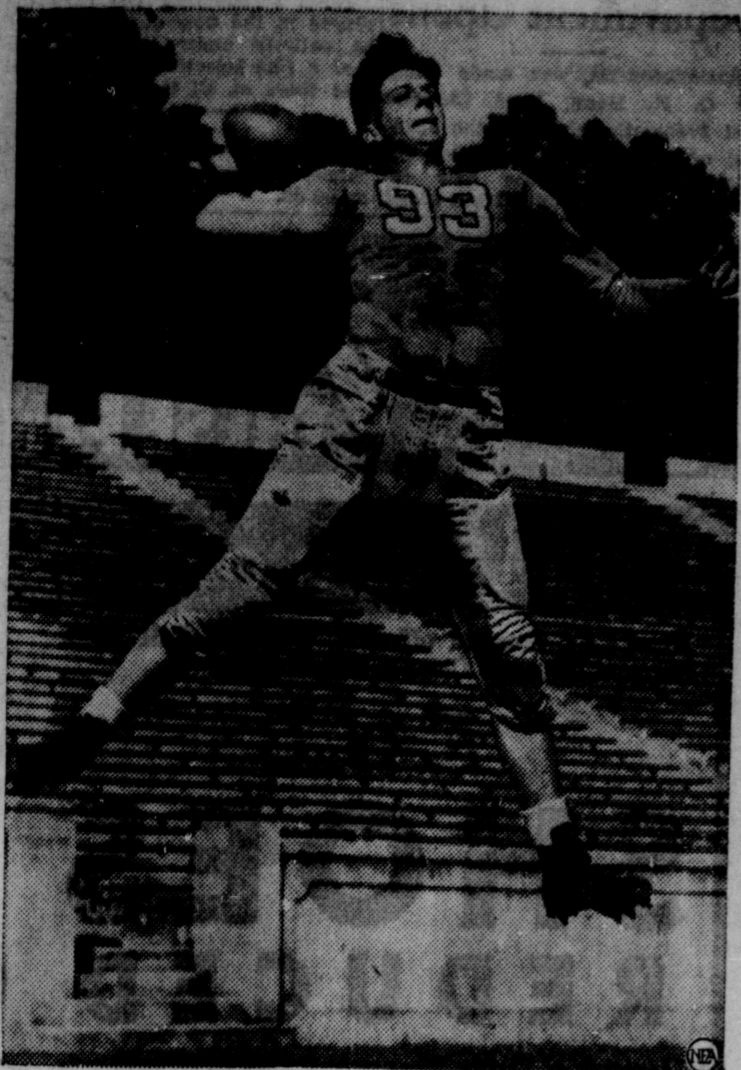

Coach Russ Wilson inherited a fine lot of material

I. S. CITRUS PARLEY PLANS DEFINITE MOVE

CROP ACT TO SEE IMMINENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—(UP)—Government and industry representatives at the agriculture department's citrus conference met separately today to decide on specific proposals for marketing this year's huge crop of oranges and grapefruit.

Representatives of the industry in Texas, Arizona, California and Florida planned to form a definite program to present to the industry and the government.

What Aid to Expect

Federal representatives met to determine what they should "reasonably" expect from the industry and what aid the government could give.

The separate meetings came after two days of joint conferences during which the conferees made tentative suggestions and reviewed marketing problems.

The government conferees were Robert R. Taylor, chief of the general crop section of the agricultural adjustment administration; Bud A. Holt, assistant director of the division of marketing and marketing agreements; and S. R. Smith, senior marketing specialist of the general crop section. The 17 citrus conferees were named by citrus organizations at the invitation of the agricultural department.

Benefit Payments

The government men planned to discuss possible increased citrus purchases by the federal surplus commodities corporation, increased benefit payments for citrus diversion, and a federal promotion campaign for larger citrus consumption.

Citrus representatives planned further development of a program for withholding inferior fruit from the market.

Cull Grade Oranges

The conferees tentatively accepted a program for withholding from the market cull grade oranges, which represent 10 per cent of the yield.

The low grade oranges would be diverted to by-product uses. This program would dovetail with the tentative decision yesterday to sell only top quality grapefruit.

Heavy Production

Orange production this year was estimated at 58 per cent above the average for the last 10 years. Grapefruit production was estimated at 141 per cent above the 10 year average.

Marketing restrictions would be affected through marketing agreements. The California-Arizona and Texas regions already have marketing restrictions. The Florida group today gave assurance that it would encourage adoption of an agreement in that state.

Meanwhile H. S. Hazeltine, vice president of the American Fruit Growers, Inc., charged the conferees were "hand picked."

"The selection of representatives was raw," said Hazeltine, who is not a member of the conference. "I don't know so much about the other delegations, but California's so-called representatives do not represent the California industry."

Hazeltine, stationed at Los Angeles, said he was looking after the interests of growers who sold to his company.

The representatives came to Washington to study marketing problems at the invitation of the agriculture department. They were selected by industry committees, cooperative marketing associations and grower associations.

Jimmie Fidler in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 20.—The recent shooting fray in which Ruth Etting's present husband was severely wounded by her ex-mate, made headlines in every American newspaper and, of course, furnished Hollywood with material for a week-long gossip fest. In discussing it last night, the lady who lives next door—a recent immigrant from somewhere East—said, cuttingly: "Oh, well—it's just Hollywood." Doubtless, the 140,000,000 other Americans who are unconnected with pictures are saying the same thing. I want to take exception.

According to police records, Hollywood and Beverly Hills are the most law-abiding cities of their size in the United States . . . and the most law-abiding citizens of the two movie centers are the movie workers, themselves. An amazing fact, when you consider the emotional explosiveness that dominates the disposition of most actors, writers, directors and other creative "artists." In all Hollywood history we have had only two murders directly involving prominent movie names. Theft cases are almost never recorded on the police blotter—and that in spite of the fact that Hollywood extras, as a class, are perpetually on the verge of starvation. Black-mail, extortion, criminal assault and all of the other major crimes are rareties here.

Unfortunately, newspapers capitalize on the glamor surrounding Hollywood and play up any sensation which can be remotely connected with picture people. But—aside from our divorce record, we have no cause for shame.

CUFF NOTES: Michael Whalen and Iona Massey have kissed and made-up—it looks like orange blossoms will be in order, come March . . . Mae Murray is sizing again—this time because a New York paper reminds the public that she was in the "Follies of 1908" . . . Stand by for a new deluge of screen horrors—revivals of "Dracula" and "Frankenstein" have proved so popular that every studio has scheduled at least one, the prize being Universal's "Return of Dracula," with Bela Lugosi, Boris Karloff and Peter Lorre sharing top billing. John Garfield has been excused from work until the star's imminent visit cures his jitters . . . Edward Small is due for "Gone With the Wind" troubles in casting "My Son, My Son"—fans are already flooding the mail with suggestions . . . Jack Benny's famous Maxwell has been sold to a junk dealer . . . It's a nervous breakdown for Miss Lois Horne, the "Dead End Kids" schoolteacher—and no wonder! . . . Clark Gable is learning to tap dance for "Idiot's Delight"—and he's so sensitive that his set has been ordered closed to all visitors . . . Put a big question mark after the announcements that Luise Rainer will do a Broadway play—she's read 300 scripts to date and en-ged them all . . . Gall Page has opened a San Fernando Valley real estate office . . .

Among the Major Attractions

Three of the major attractions in the spectacular parade which will be the highlight of the 15th annual Halloween celebration at Anaheim October 28 will be the three drum majorettes pictured above who will lead the Anaheim Drum and Bugle corps. From left to right the girls are Sybil Brown, Marjory LaSalle and Barbara Ann Walling. Miss LaSalle and Miss Walling recently received national publicity when they were featured on the cover picture of "Life" of October 7. The Halloween parade will start promptly at 7 o'clock. The Santa Ana High School band will participate.

OFFICERS OPEN INVESTIGATION IN MOUNTAIN CABIN BURGLARY

Investigation into the burglarizing of a mountain cabin belonging to Mrs. A. E. Manzer, San Gabriel, and located one-fourth mile east of the Forest Ranger station, east of San Juan Hot Springs, was under way today.

Looks like Lucille Ball will lose that big break in "Pacific Liner"—she has a bad sinus infection . . . Poly Moran hits the comeback trail today with a nice bit in Paramount's "Ambush"—and here's luck! . . . Despite rumors, Randy Scott and Cesar Romero are still leading the race for Joan Crawford's heart. . . .

Many readers have written to ask what has happened to the book, "Today is Tonight," which Jean Harlow was writing at the time of her death. Mrs. Belo, Jean's mother, is still on the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer contract list as a writer, supposedly retained to work on that story, but I can believe that it ever will be screened. And I understand that the manuscript has been submitted to, and rejected by, almost every known publishing house. . . .

BELLS AND NO-BELLS: Chimes to "Suez," the best picture of the week—and an extra bell to the great storm scene, the most spectacular ever filmed . . . No bells to Garbo and her advisors for devising nothing new to replace that worn-out home-coming act . . . A lusty peal for little Republic's "I Stand Accused," proving that good pictures can be made for less than a million. . . . A carillon to Eddie Albert, who debuts in "Brother Rat" with a swell performance, the best of the week . . . And five bells and a tinkle to Robert Montgomery and Edward Arnold for the fine work they are doing in behalf of Hollywood's needy extras . . .

ENGLISH Baffles Students
BERKELEY, Cal. (UP)—University of California professors are wondering if English is ceasing to be used in the United States. Out of 2897 prospective students who took the required English test for entering the university, 1714 failed. Percentage of those who passed was 62.8, or 3 per cent less than last year.

Unusual Avocado Show Planned At Vista

An outstanding avocado and products' show will be staged this Saturday and Sunday by Vista, "subtropical empire" in northern San Diego county. Southern Californians interested in the favored salad fruit as well as in flowers, plants, nursery stock, subtropical fruits, vegetables and field crops, homecraft, arts and crafts and hobby collections, are invited to attend the colorful event.

Hour For Affair
School bands will appear on the special programs arranged. The show will be staged in the new $200,000 high school at Vista. It runs through the evening. On Sunday it will be open from 10 a. m. Saturday and 1 to 6 p. m. Vista is a fast-growing and leading avocado center, located eight miles inland from between Oceanside and Carlsbad.

Board Opens Quiz On Tree Protest

Upon request of Mrs. Laura P. Gulick, 1702 Spurgeon street, that certain Carob trees in the parkway adjacent to her property at the northeast corner of 17th and Spurgeon streets be removed, Mrs. Ruth Forgy and E. M. Hall, members of the forestry board, now are investigating to determine which trees should be removed. It was pointed out are five Carob trees on 17th, four on Spurgeon, at the corner. Mrs. Forgy and Hall were asked to make recommendation to the board at next meeting.

Back in 1910 six men and a cat attempted to blaze the air trail from the United States to Europe, and actually covered 1003 miles over the sea—but not all of it in the direction of Europe.

AVOCADO GROWERS CONVEENE FRIDAY

HIBBERT TELLS ABOUT PARLEY

Carrying first hand news of the tremendous rehabilitation program carried on by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, George R. Hibbert, Santa Ana business man, today had returned from Salt Lake City, Utah, where he attended the General Conference of the church. Hibbert is a member of the Bishopric of the Santa Ana church.

"The theme of the conference was based on the 'Brotherhood of Man,'" Hibbert explained, "as pertaining to, 'Am I My Brother's Keeper?'"
"The great church welfare program, which is in its second year has taken 24,000 of its members off government relief and rehabilitated them in gainful employment. It is the stern belief of the church that the idler should not eat the bread and wear the clothes of the laborer."
"Various of the conference speakers declared that never has there been a time like the present for greater need of a united stand against the evil designs that confront the nations of the world. They asserted that if civilization is to continue, it must be that men stand together in a common brotherhood."

Husband Fined In Assault Case

George L. Richardson, Orange beauty shop operator of 110 East Chapman avenue, charged with assault and battery, was fined $25 yesterday when he appeared before Justice Cal D. Lester in Orange justice court.

It was alleged Richardson kicked his wife during a family quarrel. Richardson then alleged his wife bit him on the thumb. The judge fined Richardson $100 but suspended $75 of the amount on condition Richardson refrain from molesting his wife for a year. Richardson gave himself up Monday when he learned a warrant for his arrest had been prepared.

School Nurses Addresses P-T. A.

Miss Anna Ekdohl, school nurse, was the principal speaker yesterday at the October meeting of the Franklin school P-T. A. The Kindergarten class furnished the entertainment, giving a demonstration "On How to be Healthy."

An announcement was made at the business meeting that the rummage sale will be held Friday and Saturday of this week. The sale headquarters will be located at 411 West Fourth street and they will be open all day on both Friday and Saturday.

Foreign motorists touring in Italy can obtain limited supplies of gasoline at 22½ cents a gallon, as compared with the regular price of about 70 cents a gallon.

MEEHAN WARS AGAINST USE OF TRAFFIC SIGNS AS GUN TARGETS

Persons who make it a practice to use traffic signs, signals, guide posts or historical markers for targets while practicing the art of shooting or while committing an act of maliciousness are subject to arrest prosecution.

This was the warning sounded today by Capt. H. C. Meehan, head of the Orange county unit of the California highway patrol, in presenting answers to a series of questions submitted by interest motorists.

Asks About Penalty
"What is the penalty provided by law when a person has been convicted of drunk driving but no one has been injured as a result of a crash?" one woman asked.

Said Captain Meehan: "Upon first conviction, from 30 days to six months in county jail or a fine from $50 to $500, or both, and upon subsequent conviction for the same offense, imprisonment in county jail for not to exceed one year or a fine not to exceed $1000, or both."

Captain Meehan pointed out that the law requires a motorist to come to a complete stop for a wig-wag signal at a railroad crossing if it be in operation. The motorist must stop not more than 50 nor less than 70 feet from the nearest rail, then to proceed if he can proceed safely.

DR. DALTON WINS IN TALK CONTEST

Smedley Chapter Toastmasters at their meeting last night voted Dr. Mark Dalton first place and Warren O. Mendenhall second place in the weekly contest which was generally commented upon as one of the best meetings in several months.

Dr. Dalton spoke on the cryptic subject "O. K." and dealt both seriously and humorously with the difficult position of the father of a family. Mendenhall on the subject of "Sauce for the Gander" gave the club interesting ideas regarding socialization of medicine.

Other members who spoke were Mel R. Curtis on "Brakes," Jim Wright, "The Ghost City," R. C. Smedley, a masterly handling of his subject "Words," and W. N. Cummings on "Smelters."

This was the initial meeting of the new administration with President Mendenhall presiding.

Fred T. Dunstan was toastmaster for the evening, with David Cherry filling the office of general critic.

No Bob for Her

Bertha Howard of Prairie City, Ore., doesn't go for boyish bobs. Her unshorn locks are longer than she is tall, stretching 5 1-2 feet from the crown of her head to her heels. Bertha's troubles, however, begin when she tries to buy a hat. With all that hair around her head she can't get a chapeau to fit.

Shrubs Will Be Taken from Street

As a result of D. W. Koser's request that an Acacia tree be removed from a parkway near his home, 502 South Flower street, and replaced by a European Sycamore, the entire block will be cleared of miscellaneous planting and planted to the European Sycamore, if the forestry board's suggestion is followed.

The European Sycamore is the specified tree for the block. At suggestion of Commissioner E. M. Hall, Koser was asked to ascertain whether it would be possible to secure consent of all property owners in the block to have the specified tree planted there.

FULL PROGRAM IS ANNOUNCED

Announcement of the program that will attract hundreds of avocado growers of Southern California to the Ninth Annual Avocado Institute to open at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow at La Habra, was made today by Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg, who is in charge of arrangements for the parley.

Subjects to be discussed on the program include avocado fertilization, pruning, variety selection, propagation of avocados and frost resistance. Wahlberg said.

Plan Rare Display
An added feature of the institute this year will be the plate display of new varieties and seedlings showing promise for commercial propagation, Wahlberg added. Growers are invited to bring any interesting specimens to add to the demonstration.

A second feature of the institute is the field demonstration in the Ross Hodson orchard, East Center and Palm streets, following the afternoon session. H. H. Gardner, of Orange, will preside over the morning meeting while Guy Steele, of La Habra, will be in charge of the afternoon session.

Day's Program
The program for the day is as follows:

"Recent Avocado Observations in Mexico," by A. D. Shamel, U. S. Department of Agriculture; "Response of Avocado Varieties Since the Freeze," by E. C. Moore, assistant farm advisor, Los Angeles county, and Dr. J. E. Coit, Vista; "The Question of Fertilizers," E. R. Parker, citrus experiment station; noon recess. Plate display of seedlings and varieties; "Recent Findings in Avocado Propagation," by Prof. R. W. Hodgson, U. C. L. A.; demonstration of avocado pruning by Carter Barrett, horticulturist.

Two Friends Are Reunited After 23 Years

A chance reunion of old friends who had not seen each other for 23 years was brought about at the last meeting of the Santa Ana Elks lodge. Among the exalted rulers introduced was Russell Olds of Pasadena, and in the lodge gathering, George Grupe of Costa Mesa. The two last saw each other when they were members of the graduating class of St. John's Military academy in Deltafield, Wis.

Grupe spent yesterday in Pasadena as the guest of Olds and the two renewing their acquaintance in reminiscence over past friends and activities.

Daughters Form Plans For Honoring
Grand Officer Monday

When Native Daughters of the Golden West assembled Tuesday evening for a card party in the home of Mrs. Edward Wagner, 2046 North Flower street, they discussed plans for entertaining Grand President Edna Briggs of San Francisco next Monday evening.

The affair will be held at 6:30 o'clock in Ebell clubhouse, with dinner and a program scheduled. Special importance attaches to the event, since it will mark Mrs. Briggs' first official visit to a Southland parlor. Other grand officers are expected to be in attendance. Members planning to take part are reminded to make their reservations with Mrs. Walter Hickey, Mrs. Rose Ford or Mrs. W. A. West. Mrs. Eunice Fox will be in charge of the program.

Mrs. Hickey, parlor president, conducted Tuesday night's business meeting, which was followed by card play. Prizes were won by Mesdames W. M. Mize, Walter Hickey and Hazel Flaherty, who scored high and low.

Quantities of flowers formed a background for the party, which reached a pleasant climax with the serving of open faced sandwiches, followed by a dessert course of ice cream, cake and coffee. Hal-lowe'en nutcrackers appointed the tables. Assisting Mrs. Wagner was her daughter, Miss Lois Wagner. Present were Mesdames Carl Schneider, D. W. Ellis, W. M. Mize, W. A. West, Walter Hickey, Don Crumley, Gordon Evenson, H. T. Witt, Raymond Marsie, Paul Elzold, Elizabeth Marsie, Grace Cook, Rose Ford; the Misses Eloise Hickey, Gladys Edwards, Caroline Opp, Lois Wagner and the hostess, Mrs. Wagner.

85th Anniversary
Has Happy Observance

Although Tuesday, October 19, was the actual birthday anniversary of George W. Hoff, who attained the age of 85 years, Mrs. Hoff anticipated the anniversary by a few days, and complimented her husband Sunday afternoon with an open-house affair for all the other families of Mills Court, 612 Bush street, where the Hoff residence.

Greeting cards and flowers were showered on the celebrant, and he received many letters and gift packages from friends in Orange, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Long Beach, as well as from such distant points as Michigan, Mississippi and Iowa. He and Mrs. Hoff had lived at different times, in the three states before coming to the Southland.

Friends sharing the Sunday open house included Mrs. C. E. Kibel, Mrs. Laura Ingram, Mrs. W. A. Smith, Mrs. Donna Burke, Miss M. Helene Peterson, Mrs. Emma Hill and daughter, Mrs. Fern Coleman. Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Coleman brought a luscious birthday cake also for the celebrant.

Pleasant as was the afternoon, it did not end the observance, for on Tuesday Mr. Hoff was surprised by the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vincent Long of Long Beach, who brought flowers and another big birthday cake. A little group of Santa Ana friends also joined in the afternoon's celebration, including Mrs. Robert Morehouse, Mrs. Opal Hibbs and daughter, Miss Pauline Hibbs, and Mrs. Estella Wilson.

Mrs. Stephenson Gives Reviews for Section

Reviewing a group of late books Mrs. T. E. Stephenson provided an informative program for members and guests of Junior Ebell Second Book Review section Tuesday night in the home of the Misses Mary and Martha Tuthill, 2035 Victoria Drive.

Miss Alberta Greene, leader of the section, and Miss Mary Nalle were co-hostesses with the Misses Tuthill.

Although Mrs. Stephenson mentioned a number of books, she gave the greater part of the time to "Listen, the Wind" by Ann Lindbergh and "With Malice Toward Some" by Margaret Halsey.

Mrs. Stephenson and Mrs. R. G. Tuthill poured tea and coffee, officiating at a table where autumn leaves and fruits were arranged as a mirrored centerpiece.

LUNCHEON EVENT

Luncheon at Danigers was followed by bridge play in the home of the hostess, Mrs. Vincent Croal, 2370 Riverside Drive, yesterday afternoon when club members assembled for an informal affair.

Mrs. Hugh McKerny and Mrs. William Masag won prizes for first and second high scores. Mrs. McKerny, Mrs. Clyde Ashen and Mrs. Andrew Kramer were guests. Members present with Mrs. Croal were Mesdames William Masag, Nick Brock, Barnie Brock, Charles Paulino, Roy Managan, William Faulkner, William Strain and Emil Wetzel.

Willard School Continues
Enjoyable Annual Custom

There is an air of subdued excitement apparent today at Frances Willard Junior High school, just as was the case on Tuesday and will again be the case next Tuesday. For in accordance with a very pleasant custom indeed, which was established a year or so ago as an annual event, faculty and students are observing a series of three guest days. Parents and friends of students may attend classes, watch the young people at their work routine, and finally congregate in the school's beautiful patio for a pleasant tea-musical.

This current hospitality opened Tuesday when ninth grade students were hosts. Classes went on as usual all day, but visitors were privileged to attend these classes and watch the young people at work. Today is set aside as eighth grade observance, and next Tuesday, seventh grade students will receive at the third and final event of the series. Prominent in host activities are the boys and girls of the student government group.

Fine Cooperation

Lyle B. Mitchell, principal, and Mrs. Arnold Lund, vice-principal, are assisting in each day's events, but Mrs. Lund as general chairman today directed that her efforts would be fruitless were it not for the prominence taken by Miss Lillian Fitz of the foods classes, in all the hospitable plans. For Miss Fitz, assisted by the members of her classes, took over all responsibility for planning and preparing the tea menu for each day's party, and the class members do the serving.

For Tuesday afternoon's tea in the patio, Mrs. Lawrence Minge was chairman of a hostess group which included the Misses Alberta Greene, Marian Libby, Alice Lamb, Mary Schott, Mrs. Vivian Lamb, Mrs. Grant Sylvester (Esther Jean Davis) and Messrs. Lowell Schmid, Arnold Lund and John S. Dickey.

Musical features included several songs by Ninth Grade Girls' Glee club directed by Miss Helen Glancy and with Miss Evelyn Burgess as accompanist, and accordion solos by Clyde Riglan.

The grassy patio and its formal planting made pleasant foil for the two-lace-apart tea. One was arranged with a handsome silver service, while the other was quite as lovely in brass. Chrysanthemums shading from pale yellow to deep golden bronze were equally effective with both tea services. Miss Vanche Etelle Plumb presided at one table, and Miss Ruth Fitz at the other. Accompanying the tea were the delectable of canapés and prettily decorated petite fours, all prepared under direction of Miss Lillian Fitz.

Similar Plans
The same rule was to prevail this afternoon, with similar table arrangement, and with Mrs. Percy Budd and Mrs. Mabel Blee to pour. Since eighth grade parents and friends were the visitors throughout the class room periods, and dinner guests at the tea, they were to be entertained by a song program presented by Eighth Grade Girls' Glee clubs, directed by Mrs. Sylvester.

Mrs. Horace Scott was chairman of today's hostess committee, comprised of Mrs. Frank Stewart, Mrs. Robert Low, Mrs. J. W. Mashmeyer, the Misses Fanny Steele, Ruth Fitz, Helen Glancy, Messrs. Robert Horn and E. D. Froehlich.

Next Tuesday when the closing affair is given it will be in compliance to parents of seventh graders, and Mrs. Budd will be hostess committee chairman. Assisting her will be Mrs. C. E. Wright, Mrs. Vera Allen, Mrs. Nellie Smith, the Misses Mary Jane Steele, Wyllis Anderson, Vanche Plumb, and Messrs. Norman Hites, Harold Bracewell and Herbert A. Michel.

Honeymooners Greeted With Dinner Party

Welcoming the recent return of Louis Ellsworth Clems from their honeymoon trip to Boulder Dam, was a delightful little family dinner party at which the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Meredith, entertained Tuesday night in their Brea home.

The marriage of Louis Clems, son of the Virgil Clems, 1013 Cypress avenue, and Miss Pauline Lavon Meredith of Brea, was an event of Saturday, October 8. The young couple left immediately for their honeymoon, but have now returned and soon will be ready to receive friends at the home they are establishing at 504 North Olive street.

Mr. and Mrs. Meredith made the welcome home party an intimate one, and served a delicious dinner at a table sparkling with crystal. A tall wedding cake topped with small bridal figures provided a pretty centerpiece, and later was served by the new Mrs. Clem, to be cut by the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Meredith, and their honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Clem, were the two daughters of the home, the Misses Maxine and Janice Meredith, with Mr. Clem's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Clem, their daughter, Drucilla Clem, and Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hamlin, all of this city. Mrs. Hamlin was formerly Miss Eloise Meredith, daughter of the hosts.

Saturday Night Brings
De Molays-Jubilee
Lodge Dinner

Advance reservations made for Saturday night's dinner and program to be given in Masonic temple under auspices of Santa Ana chapter Order of De Molays and Jubilee lodge F. and A. M., indicate that scores of members and guests will be in attendance.

Beginning at 6:30 o'clock with the serving of dinner, the affair will continue to a gala climax with presentation of six acts of select vaudeville, it was announced.

Those planning to attend are asked to secure their tickets from Harvey Dimmitt, master of Jubilee lodge; Dick Horton, De Molays master councilor; or Dr. Roy S. Horton by Friday noon. Mrs. Horton and Mrs. Dimmitt are co-chairmen of the dinner committee.

On the entertainment committee are Dick Horton, Hugh Neighbour and Ralph Pagenkopf of De Molays; James Rhine, John Garthe and Joseph Hamblin, of Jubilee lodge.

Outlining plans for the event to follow, Dimmitt stated that the party has been planned to stimulate friendship and a closer bond between Masonic Blue lodge and the De Molays. The public is invited to take part in the festivities.

Honoree at Party
Receives Dainty Gifts

In complimenting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert White, Jr., at a layette shower yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Richard White was privileged to receive guests in the home of the parents of her husband and his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Robert White, 504 Halladay street.

The senior Mrs. White assisted her daughter-in-law in all plans for the enjoyable afternoon, including the arrangement of Mexican sunflowers in decorative effect, and the introduction of the games program.

There were various games played, the majority of them on the theme of babyhood. They were climaxed with the presentation to the guest of honor, of the many ribbon-tied packages brought by her friends and placed in a pretty basket.

Coffee and cake with whipped cream were served on individual trays before the afternoon drew to a close.

Mrs. White's invitation list included with her honoree, Mrs. Robert White, Jr., and their mother-in-law, Mrs. Robert White, Miss Pearl Sharon and Mesdames Jeff Runyan, Mickey Gregg, Nell Adams, Thomas Bernier, R. J. Zimpelman, John Case, Marguerite Whitford, Lyle Reed, Norman Dasher, Ben Switzer, Phil Hay, Bessie Sharon and Lizzie Hall.

VISITOR FROM NORTH

In the Southland primarily on business, Mrs. Claude H. Van Antwerp came down from San Francisco Tuesday for a two or three day stay during which she has been renewing acquaintances with many of her friends in Santa Ana, her former home city. She has been a guest in the home of the Fred Storeys, 1913 Victoria Drive.

Mrs. Van Antwerp will spend the weekend with Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Magan of Covina, remaining in that city for an open house affair on Sunday when Dr. Magan will open his new offices. Returning to San Francisco, Mrs. Van Antwerp again will be at home to her friends at Sir Francis Drake hotel, where she has resided for the past several months.

Highlights Circle
Meeting

Invited to the home of Mrs. George Angie, 701 Hickory street, yesterday afternoon to have tea with members of the First Methodist Associated Women's Circle No. 8, Miss Katherine Holman was surprised to find herself honoree at an intimate little pre-nuptial affair.

The occasion was a regular meeting of the Circle under direction of the leader, Mrs. Sam Long. Since the date was so near that chosen for the marriage of Miss Holman and Homer Kerley Saturday afternoon, members decided to give a surprise affair for the bride-elect.

Arriving at the Angie home, Miss Holman found a charming party setting dominated by bouquets of pink petunias. A silver bowl of the blossoms centered the dining room table, which was lighted with tapers in silver holders. Mrs. Ruth Walker and Mrs. George Cooke poured tea. James and Jellies were showered upon the honor guest.

The marriage of Miss Holman, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Holman, and Mr. Kerley will take place in First Methodist church of which the Rev. Mr. Holman is pastor.

Women Golfers Enjoy
Al Fresco Luncheon

Following their round of golf Tuesday at Santa Ana Country club, women golfers of the club went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Baker, 1211 East Sixth street for a delectable luncheon which served as a monthly party for the group.

Mrs. Baker was on hand to grill steaks on an outdoor barbecue. Other inviting foods were served as members discussed their good and bad shots of the morning. The gay luncheon had been arranged in observance of the golfers' custom of holding some sort of social affair on the third Tuesday of each month. Pottery appointed the outdoor table, which was centered with Mexican sunflowers.

Local Group Attends

Friendly Group Shares
Birthday Dinner

Club members who get together at frequent intervals celebrated the birthday of Mrs. A. E. Shoemaker last night when a dinner party was given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Chandler, 301 North Garnsey street.

Flowers throughout the rooms established a fall motif further observed at the dining room table where baked ham dinner was served. Each guest was asked to blow out the flame on one of the dozen candles which decked the pretty birthday cake. Handkerchiefs and cards were showered upon the honoree.

In the group with Mr. and Mrs. Shoemaker were Mr. and Mrs. Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. George Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Prevost, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Baker, Mrs. Pauline Decker and Mrs. Stella Henderson.

W. C. T. U.

Reports on the state W.C.T.U. convention held last week in Long Beach were given Tuesday afternoon at a monthly meeting of Santa Ana union in First Presbyterian annex. Mrs. Linnie Cruzen, newly-elected president, conducted the session.

Convention reports were given by Miss Emily Cox, Miss Elizabeth Wyant, Mrs. Effie Means, Miss Sadie McConaughy, Mrs. Edith Vose and Mrs. Cruzen. Mrs. Clara Jones of Orange gave a short talk.

The Rev. Louis A. White, pastor of South Santa Ana Church of Christ was speaker of the afternoon. He was introduced by Mrs. Melville Vance, who also led devotionals. County convention report was given by Mrs. Elizabeth Warren.

MRS. ERWIN'S CLUB

First meeting of the season for bridge club members was a pleasant affair of Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. E. C. Erwin was hostess in her home, 515 South Ross street. There were many bright flowers to add to the charm of the setting.

Serving of dessert was followed by card play which brought prizes for Mrs. James Allen and Mrs. Edward Walker, who held the two highest scores.

Mrs. Allen was a guest substituting for Mrs. Cood Adams. Members present with Mrs. Erwin were Mesdames R. A. Kloess, Frank Hoffman, A. Hoffman, Mabel Lambert, Clyde Walker, Edward Walker, Al-

Well Known Families
To Live in Riverside

News that two families prominent in activities of First Christian church will leave soon to make their homes in Riverside was told last night at a meeting of Bible School Workers conference in the educational building.

Herbert Nicks, superintendent of the Sunday school, and Mrs. Nicks; and Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Sullivan and family are leaving Santa Ana in the near future. They will live in Riverside where the two men will be with the Paxton Nailing Machine company, it was announced.

Members of First Christian church board and their wives were guests at the affair. Richard Brown led group singing, followed by a violin solo by Robert Sullivan, with Eloise Sullivan at the piano. Bor-nice Taylor, Mrs. John Geiger and Richard Brown sang trio numbers.

The Rev. Samuel Edgar, pastor of Reformed Presbyterian church, talked on "Life Begins with a Capital L." Mrs. Brown conducted a short business meeting.

Mrs. Clifford Patrick, chairman of the refreshment committee, served cake and coffee, assisted by Mrs. Theo Faulkner and Mrs. W. L. Copeland.

You and Your Friends

Miss Gladys Howson, a talented pianist of Pasadena, and her niece, Miss Dorothy Howson of Toronto, Can., have returned to Pasadena after having been guests of Miss Carolyn Haughton, 429 South Sycamore street. They were here for the Ezio Pinza concert Monday night, and for the Musical Arts club after-concert party at Danigers.

Judge and Mrs. W. A. Brooks left yesterday for their home in Oatman, Ariz., after a visit with Mrs. Brooks' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Brindine, 422 West First street. Judge Brooks came ten days ago to join his wife in the Brindine home, where she had been visiting for the past three months.

Sorority Group Makes Plans for Informal
Dancing Party

Cord's n Gingham's is the slogan just at present for Sigma Theta sorority members, as they anticipate they say dance with which they will celebrate the Hal-lowe'en season Saturday night in the famous Deardorff barn. Plans for the party were of special interest last night when Sigma Thetas shared an unusually pleasant social affair.

They motored down to Corona del Mar to dine together at the Italian cafe as the evening's opening pleasure. Returning to this city, they were entertained by Miss Erlene Farmer in her home at 1221 South Parton street. It was during this interval that plans were completed for the Cord 'n Gingham dance.

Three Sigma Theta pledges were present, the Misses Madeline Paxton, Betty Ann Munson and Lila Adrian, together with chapter members Mrs. Joseph B. Irwin, Mrs. William Jerome Jr., the Misses Erlene Farmer, Ruth Baker, Roberta McKnight, Virginia Curry, Helen Andrews, Margaret Thomas, Valerie Demetriou, Betty Campbell, Shirley Phelps, Bettie Timmons and Betty Wiewall.

Sorority's Honorary Members Attends Meeting

Special interest attached to Tuesday night's meeting of Sigma Beta Chi sorority in the Yorba Linda home of Mrs. Noble Reneker, since little Miss Noel Paige Adams, honorary member of the group, was present.

Noel, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Adams, attended with her mother. Mrs. Reneker and her co-hostess, Mrs. Nelson Rogers, introduced bridge as the diversion, awarding prizes to the Roy Lighthall and Miss Hazel Forrester, who scored high and low. Special award went to Miss Lola Weethee.

Dahlia in vivid shades provided an autumnal background for the party, which reached a pleasant conclusion with the serving of refreshments.

Present with Mrs. Adams and her baby daughter, were Mesdames Bruce Harnois, Lee Hamilton, Howard Gould, Robert Stumm, Floyd Eppley, Nelson Rogers, Noble Reneker, Roy Lighthall, the Misses Dorothy Schneider, Hazel Forrester, Lola Weethee, Hope Hackleton, Kristine Nielsen.

Better Gardens Club Tours Birch Park

Better Gardens club members went on a tour of Birch park Tuesday afternoon under the guidance of James Smith, landscape gardener, who enumerated the trees and shrubs which form such an interesting part of the setting.

At the close of this informal session, the group went to the home of Mrs. George Bartlett, 711 South Van Ness avenue, where paper bag lunches were enjoyed.

Others present were Miss Ada McFadden, Miss Vaach Plumb, Mrs. T. E. McLeod, Mrs. Chester Wolff, Miss Lana Brokaw and Miss Eunice Adams.

SUCH A USEFUL "SEMI-DIRNDL"!
PATTERN 4965
By ANNE ADAMS

"A pleasant morning to you," says Pattern 4965, and dressed up in this flattering semi-dirndl, you'll find the early hours very bright indeed! For you can don this at-home style in a jiffy and feel spruce enough to dash out for shopping or some neighborly borrowing. This new-as-new Anne Adams design is so versatile! See — it offers you two different and becoming necklines and three different sleeve types. Yet it's simple as 1, 2, 3 to stitch—the elastic that gives such a youthful waistline and catches in the puff sleeves so daintily, is the easiest ever to insert! Note how ric-rac on collar and pockets emphasizes the long slimming line of the center panel.

Sisterly Trio Figures In Pre-nuptial Hospitality

Pretty limes were showered upon Miss Anne Goeman Tuesday evening when she was incentive for a pre-nuptial affair in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Goeman, Bolsa. The bride-elect will exchange vows with Ernest Lagier early in November.

Hostesses at the party were Miss Goeman's sisters, Mrs. Frank Marr and Mrs. Don Davis. They used many colorful flowers in decorating for the event, which included bridge and Chinese checkers as entertainment. Winning prizes were Mrs. Merle Wolverton and Mrs. Earl Vinson, who scored first and second high in cards; Mrs. Paul Wellington and Miss Beatrice Paine, in the other game.

Brightening the lace-spread dinner table were pink asters in a crystal bowl whose matching candlesticks held tall white tapers. Small tables were prettily arranged for the refreshment interval which followed presentation of gifts to the honoree.

In the group were Mrs. Paul Wellington, Los Angeles; Mrs. Dwight Ahern, Mrs. Edward Munger and Mrs. Bud Staples, Irvine; Mrs. George Minor, Anaheim; Mrs. Gordon Evenson, Tustin; Mesdames Merle Wolverton, Earl Vinson, Walter Milbrat, Albert Baesens, and the Misses Frances Philbrook and Madeline De Brower, Santa Ana; Miss Irene Callens, Talbert; the Misses Beatrice and Carol Paine, Orange, with the honor guest, Miss Goeman and the hostesses, Mrs. Marr and Mrs. Davis.

Club Members Arrange Evening of Dancing For Next Meeting

When Get-Together club members held their latest meeting with Mrs. Howard Swantz, they especially enjoyed her attractive new home at 1104 Halladay street. Its charms were increased by the bright chrysanthemums arranged about the rooms.

Mrs. Gordon Carter, club president, conducted a short business meeting to plan a dancing party for the evening of October 29. Members and their husbands or escorts will join in this gay affair, and then return to the Edwin Goodolen home, 744 Eastwood street, for an after-dinner supper.

After plans for the party were completed, members gave their attention to needlework until the close of the afternoon when Mrs. Swantz served refreshments buffet style. Her guests were Mesdames Edward Olson, Leonard Goodolen, Edwin Goodolen, Gordon Carter, Gerald Stewart, Miss Ruby Larson and Miss Mabel Larson.

Hermosa Officers Are Bridge Party Guests

Officers of Hermosa chapter O. E. S. were assembled for one of their festive parties recently when Mesdames Lenora Farmer, Vera Jacoby, Lillian McBurney, Gussie Cribaro and Fay Minnix formed a hostess quintet entertaining in the Farmer home, 1221 South Parton street.

Dahlia in orange and bronze tones contributed to the autumnal setting arranged for the occasion. Table prizes in bridge went to Mesdames Nell Winslow, Bess McWilliams, Irene Mitchell and Agnes Lindig. Special award was won by Miss Mame Havens.

Pompon dahlias floating in pretty bowls centered linen-spread tables at which refreshments were served at the close of card play. In the group with five hostesses were Mesdames Helen Lurker, Clara Seaver, Edith Hancock, Edith Snow, Etta D. Sweet, Nell Winslow, Helen Mabe, Henrietta Dahl, Pearl Liveray, Agnes Lindig, Marge Cave, Irene Mitchell, Mame Havens and Bess McWilliams.

Kappa Delta Phi Are Bridge Party Guests

Kappa Delta Phi sorority members and pledges were guests Tuesday evening of Mrs. Meredith Crumley in the home of her mother, Mrs. Mildred Morilla, 1319 Poinsettia street.

The hostess had planned for a session of bridge, with prizes going to Mrs. Frances Lacy, Mrs. Walter Stark and Miss Mildred Pearson, who scored high and low. Refreshments were served.

Pledges present were the Misses Nadine Pennington, Mildred Pearson, Lorraine Wheeler, Florence Wasson, Phyllis Heke, Mary Crowe, Fern Anderson. Members sharing Mrs. Crumley's hospitality were Mesdames Walter Stark, Charles Woodfill, Frances Lacy and the Misses Marcene Cook and Floretta Harmon.

THREE EXERCISES FOR USE IN SLIMMING BACK AND HIPS

I. Position: head and chin up, arms straight out from shoulders, palms facing out. Feet together, knees touching lightly. Action: head, chin and neck erect, bring arms slowly as against weight in an arc until palms touch at knee height, torso bending with arms. Attempt to touch floor without bending knees. Come slowly back into position as against weight. Relax, breathe deeply, and repeat.

II. Position: whole body rigidly erect, arms at right angles to shoulders, palms facing down. Feet together, knees touching. Action: arms rigidly outstretched, bend sideways, keeping knees straight and unbent. Attempt to touch floor with right hand, come slowly back into position and repeat action on left side. Back into position, relax, deep breath, and repeat.

III. Whole body rigidly erect, at right angles to shoulders, palms facing out, feet slightly apart, knees rigid, hips rigid. Action: using rigid arms as a semaphore, rotate torso on axis of hips, from right to left and vice-versa. Only movement allowable that of the waistline used in turning torso on hips.

You will see after going through the exercises, how they bring into play unused back muscles. These movements plus deep breathing burn up fat. Do not try more than five of each movement the first or second day. Add to the number as your muscles will permit.

Baked Halibut

2 egg yolks
1 1/2 pounds halibut
2 tablespoons flour
1-4 cup butter
2 cups milk
Paprika, cayenne and salt to taste
1 onion, sliced and boiled with milk
1 teaspoon minced parsley
1 cup buttered bread crumbs
Simmer fish in salted water until it can be flaked apart. Drain and flake. Simmer milk with onion, discard onion and pour milk over blended flour and butter. Cook to a sauce, season and stir in beaten egg yolks. Butter a shallow casserole. Alternate layers of fish and sauce in filling the dish. Cover top with crumbs and bake in medium oven 30 minutes. Serve with lemon. The dish contains six servings.

Quantity Mayonnaise Dressing Low in Fat Calories

In a big bowl put these ingredients:
Four egg yolks,
Two teaspoons prepared mustard
One teaspoon, each, salt and sugar.
Pinch of cayenne and curry powder.

Three cups bulk salad oil and 1-2 cup strong vinegar.

Boil two cups water, and quickly stir in six tablespoons cornstarch smoothed in a little cold water.

One pint or less completely chilled buttermilk, preferably Bulgarian culture milk. —my recipe.
Beat briskly all ingredients in bowl, make the hot starch and turn it at once over oil mixture. Beat until very smooth and thick and set away to chill. After chilling beat in chilled buttermilk, a tablespoonful at a time. Add less milk if you want a thick dressing, or all of it if you like a dressing that will pour. Keep in tightly covered jar where it will not freeze.

Department President Pays Visit To Calumit Auxiliary

U. S. W. V. Auxiliary Department President Clara Fowler of San Francisco made her official visit to Calumit Auxiliary U. S. W. V. Tuesday evening in Knights of Columbus hall following dinner at which she was honored at Home Cafe.

Twenty-one officers and other guests assembled for the enjoyable dinner. Continuing to the hall, they were joined by a large group of members and visitors. Ida Blake, more of Long Beach, junior past department president, was among those accorded escort honors.

Mrs. Luella Randel, president, who opened the meeting, turned the chairmanship over to Ruth Hess. Two candidates were elected to membership; three initiated; and two applications for membership received.

Camp members joined the auxiliary for Mrs. Fowler's address. The honoree was presented with a bouquet of chrysanthemums. Mrs. W. W. Tantlinger was in charge of the serving of refreshments to camp and auxiliary. Announcement was made that the two groups will have covered-dish dinner Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. in the hall. On the committee will be Bess Moberly, Bertha Dixon, Dena Isbell Mary Lamb and Rosa Lutz.

WEIGHT OF BIG LOCOMOTIVE ON GEARS OF AUTO

Imagine a giant locomotive bearing down on the rear gears of your automobile. Motorists who seldom think of what happens in the inner workings of their cars will be amazed to learn that, when they drive, the rear gears are actually subjected to enormous pressures of 71,500 to 109,200 pounds per square inch.

It's just as though each gear tooth were pushing the weight of a locomotive, automotive engineers say. Another startling, revealed by engineers, is that the pinion gear actually "slides" along the ring gear at speeds varying from 16.7 to 26.75 feet per second.

"Realizing the heavy weights and rapid speeds to which these vital parts are subjected, it's no wonder many motorists think something may break when they step on the gas, especially on cold winter days," declares C. H. Wartmann, Southern Division General Manager of General Petroleum.

"However, we have nothing to fear if the gears are cushioned with special winter lubricant. This lubricant stands the speed and pressure, functioning freely when the weather gets down to freezing or zero.

"To avoid trouble gear cases should be inspected now."

Actress Warned of Cold Weather

Jane Woodworth of RKO Radio Pictures inquires about emblem on car and learns from M. D. Leh of General Petroleum and E. J. Bassine of U. S. Tire Dealers Corporation, that it's a warning of cold weather ahead.

Jane Woodworth, pulchritudinous contract player of RKO-Radio Pictures, recently observed a strange flag fastened to the door of a car which carried some guests to the studio lot. So, as she came from a set where she had been doing a bathing scene, she inquired what it was all about.

She was informed by Marc D. Leh (left) general sales manager of General Petroleum, and E. J. Bassine (center) of the U. S. Tire Dealers Corporation, that the flag is a warning of cold weather ahead.

This emblem, hoisted by mariners as notice of approaching storms, is now being used as a window decoration by Mobilgas service stations as a dramatic introduction to their Winterproof plan for car owners.

"It warns motorists," said Leh, "that now is the time to prepare for cold, wet weather by having their cars Winterproof-inspected."

CAR WORRIES ARE PREVENTED BY WINTER OIL

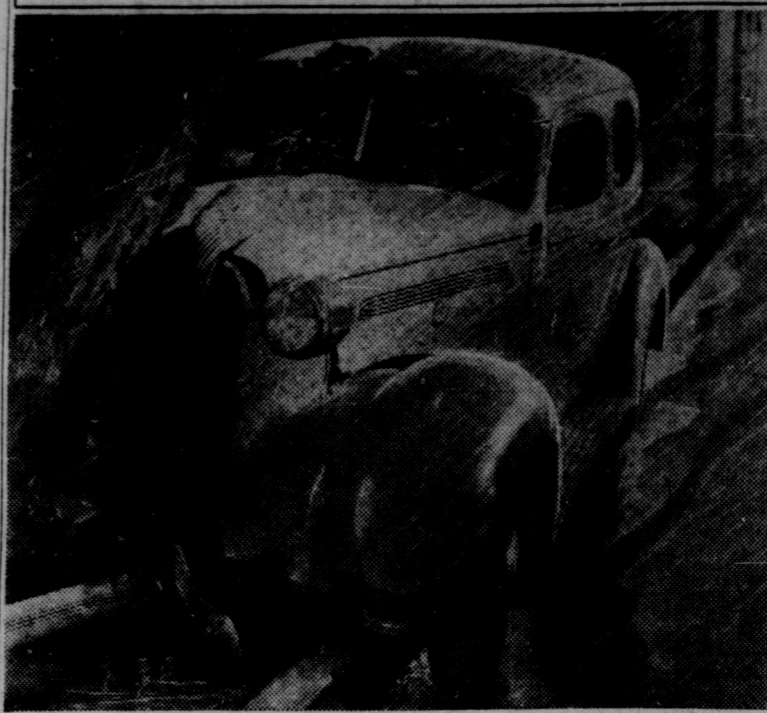

"When I step on the starter one of these cold mornings will I burn out a bearing or score a cylinder because the congealed oil won't travel through the motor fast enough?"

This is the harrowing thought that haunts many car owners when Winter suddenly clamps down, according to those who have studied reactions of thoughtful motorists. At least that's the way a communication from the engineering staff of General Petroleum puts it.

Such fears may be discarded, the communication reveals, when the crankcase holds an oil specially created for Winter use. Even at zero, such a lubricant will flow 33 times faster than ordinary oil, it is said.

"When starting at zero, a special Winter oil such as our Mobiloil Arctic will travel to vital motor parts in the volume of 10 ounces per minute, but the ordinary oil, not designed for cold weather, flows only three-tenths of an ounce per minute," says the engineering staff. "When motor temperature reaches 40 degrees, three quarts of the special Winter oil are in use per minute as compared with only 10 ounces of the ordinary oil. Lubricant must be changed before weather changes, to avoid trouble."

Wet Season Brings Hazards

Wet, wintry day. Slippery pavement. Smooth tires. Car skids. Jumps the curb. Knocks down a telephone pole. Two persons go to hospital. Automobile badly damaged. This, in brief, is the story told by the above picture, taken by a newspaper photographer, just after the harrowing mishap. It speaks volumes on the wisdom of taking all necessary precautions, especially at this season of the year, to prevent such accidents.

Of the auto accidents in America this year, 95,269 occurred in rainy weather, say Mobilgas station experts who are urging Winterproof inspection of tires and brakes to prevent skidding.

SMOOTH TIRES TAKE BIG TOLL DURING WINTER

"Accidents will happen! And they happen thick and fast to motorists with worn, smooth tires on wet, skiddy pavements," C. W. Ort, Los Angeles district manager, U. S. Tire Dealers Corporation, said today as he warned western motorists to have their tires carefully inspected before winter weather comes.

"Skidding and inability to stop quickly cause far and away the greatest number of motor accidents in winter months," he pointed out. "That's why U. S. tire engineers worked so long and so hard to perfect the revolutionary 'Centipede Grip' tread design used exclusively on the new U. S. Royal Master tire. This patented new safety tread eliminates forward and side skids and brings a car to a straight line stop as much as 200 feet quicker than ordinary tires."

"The trouble with most of us," he continued, "is that we wait until an accident happens before we realize that our tires are dangerously smooth. How much better to have a complete Winterproofing check-up such as is now offered by General Petroleum stations and be prepared in advance for Winter driving conditions."

In 1930 there were some 60 to 70 women in the entire country who could drive an automobile. Today women motorists are estimated at more than 10,000,000.

8 Million Fail to Start Cars

"I can't get my car started."

More than eight million times this winter will this plaintive plea for help be repeated to service station attendants by frantic motorists according to figures recently revealed by battery experts.

Battery failure is the chief cause of non-starting cars during the winter months, they added, urging motorists to have their batteries inspected and, if necessary, replaced before the start of the cold season.

Checking of batteries and cables and cleaning of terminals is part of the free Winterproof service now offered by Mobilgas stations.

Cousins Attend Birthday Party

OCEANVIEW, Oct. 20.—Tommie Johnson, who on Tuesday observed his fifth birthday anniversary, held a party at which the 12 children were all cousins. Mrs. Johnson served a birthday cake in pink and white.

Those participating were Tommie and his small brother, Johnnie Johnson; Kenneth, Marvin, Junior and Doris Johnson, of Wintersburg; Leonard and Jimmie Cady, Trudy, Joyce and Joan Johnson, Glenn Lee Potts, of Huntington Beach.

The Thousand Islands bridge authority has announced at Alexandria Bay, N. Y., that more than 8000 cars passed over the new bridge during the first four days of its operation. Tolls totaled about $10,000.

14,000 Years Of Experience

There are 14,000 years of lubrication experience behind the Winterproof plan. But the automobile is only 61 years old. The question is: "How comes?"

Now comes W. D. Ellison, division engineer of General Petroleum, to explain what seems to have been a puzzler to a good many motorists by declaring that "based on an average of 20 years to a man, the engineering staff which originated Winterproofing actually does represent a combined experience of 14,000 years."

"This Socony-Vacuum engineering staff with which we of General Petroleum are affiliated," he continues, "is the largest of its kind in the world. This staff knows 'what is what' when it comes to automotive mechanics and correct lubrication.

"It will no doubt inspire confidence in the minds of motorists to know that our field engineers are constantly checking their experiences with our engine-building department, and this department is constantly working in collaboration with the motor, bearing-and-gear-building plants of all the leading car and machinery manufacturers."

Many to Enjoy Snow Sports

In these days of motorized existence, when practically everyone owns or drives a car, snow sports are gaining in popularity. This city, and every other city of the west, has its favorite snow and ice fields, in the high mountain areas not far away.

Perfection of the modern automobile, building and keeping open good mountain highways and creation of auto oils and greases that work efficiently at low temperatures are reasons for the gaining snow-sport popularity, says a statement from C. A. Turney, division retail sales manager for General Petroleum.

Increasing Tire Life

The mileage in a tire depends to a large extent on proper inflation, according to U. S. Tire engineers. When pressure falls below the specified level, there is too much flexing of sidewalls, uneven tread wear, harder steering and excessive gasoline consumption.

Winter Turned Into Summer

Winter is just as much a vacation time as summer in these days of automobile improvements and advancements. Now motorists travel as far as they like, whenever they wish, in any kind of weather. Hence cold-weather motoring is on the increase.

Such is the opinion expressed by those who are making a study of motorists' habits.

Furniture Plans Told At Meeting

To Keep Lever From Breaking

"I'm afraid I'll break a lever or strip a gear."

Thousands of times this Winter, when autos are started on cold nights or mornings, motorists will entertain such a fear, judging from statements they make to service station attendants.

This fear, the attendants say, grows from the thought that transmission oil will be so congealed as to cause great difficulty in the shifting of gears. "To overcome this difficulty," they declare, "Mobiloil engineers have produced a Winter transmission lubricant that works like greased lightning, no matter how cold the day. It's one of the many achievements offered through Winterproof service to set motorists' minds at rest. Transmission oil should be inspected before Winter sets in. Then there's no worry about shifting."

Installed on a Curtiss pursuit plane, tandem-mounted propellers which revolve in opposite directions are being experimented with by the Army Air Corps.

LOCAL MOBILGAS STATIONS IN MOVE TO HELP MOTORISTS BE SAFE AGAINST ELEMENTS

Lorraine Krueger, star of RKO Radio Pictures, is amazed at punishment endured by Winter Mobiloil, when she inspects this interesting exhibit.

Picture Star Learns That Winter Motor Oil Flows Either at Freezing or Boiling

Few persons realize that Winter motor oil must stand up at either freezing or boiling, and lubricate efficiently under both temperature extremes. The thermometer may be at freezing, or even below zero, when the car is started. Within 20 minutes of driving the radiator may be boiling. It is important to use an oil that will endure both kinds of punishment, experts say.

Learning to her amazement that specially-created Winter oil will do its work perfectly either at freezing or boiling, Miss Lorraine Krueger, star of RKO-Radio Pictures, who plays the lead opposite Joe Fenner in "I'm From the City," recently saw an interesting exhibit.

The exhibit showed oil flowing from a Filpruf bottle of Mobiloil Arctic which had been frozen in a cake of ice. Alongside was another bottle of the lubricant immersed in boiling water. The demonstration was used by H. W. Taylor, lubricants department manager of General Petroleum to prove this Winter oil will flow freely, and lubricate effectively, despite severe temperature extremes.

"Perfection of this oil, rightfully called Arctic," said Taylor, "is a real achievement of Mobiloil engineers. It enables car owners to play safe against fast wear of vital motor parts."

Rear End Gears Bring Problem

A new problem looms big for motorists today whenever a hypoid, rear-end gear is lubricated. More than 70 per cent of the new cars are equipped with this type gear, which requires that lubrication must be "handled with kid gloves" so to speak. Mistakes would be costly.

"Because of the extremely heavy pressures exerted in hypoid gears," declares General Petroleum, "the lubricants for them must be specially compounded to insure adequate cushioning and save the gears from undue wear or breakage."

"The important point is that different kinds of hypoid gear lubricants cannot be mixed with safety. Mixing will bring about chemical reaction, causing the greases to turn to taffy. Then they cease to function. Having had one brand of grease installed, do not allow an operator to mix it with another."

Included in the largest War Department appropriation bill since 1921 is a provision for the purchase of 45 additional planes, with the objective of having 2320 serviceable planes available by July 1, 1940.

Plan Box Social At Beach Church

SEAL BEACH, Oct. 25.—Childhood memories will be revived here Friday evening when the choir of Community Methodist Episcopal church sponsors an old time box social in the recreation hall of the church, Tenth street and Central avenue. Proceeds from the sale of the boxes will go to the choir treasury, according to Mrs. J. C. Felts, chairman in charge of arrangements. The program will start at 7:30 o'clock.

Group singing of old time songs is planned by the choir director, Mrs. Carrie Lou Sutherland of Anaheim, in addition to several surprise features. Auctioneers for the occasion will be J. C. Felts, and Chief of Jolice Lee Howard, both originally middle westerners, familiar with the technique of box socials.

The police department in London, England, has instituted a free school to train animals in better behavior while promenading—it seems dogs cause numerous traffic accidents by walking into the streets unexpectedly.

ISSUES WARNING AGAINST DELAY

Warning of danger days ahead, due to approaching winter, is being broadcast to motorists.

Such is the declaration of H. W. Low, Santa Ana manager of General Petroleum, who says, "there should be no delay in having cars Winterproof inspected. It's better to be a week early than a day late."

"For winter we must use extreme caution in automobile lubrication, which has now been reduced to a science. The only way to play safe is to have everything inspected."

Some engineers predict that the day will come when smooth highways will be a thing of the past. It is the contention of many that highways as well as tires should be treaded.

H. W. LOW

Motorists and other highway users in the United States paid an estimated $980,000,000—a record high—in gasoline taxes during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1938. This is an increase of more than 100 per cent since 1929.

X-Ray Interests Many Motorists

There are 7,666 oiling and greasing places on the various cars today. How can anyone know where they all are, and what lubricants to use? The fear that some lubrication man wouldn't remember all these places has been one of motorists' worries in the past.

Confronted by this problem, experts have originated a new-type chart called the "X-Ray" which is now attracting the attention of many interested car owners to Mobilgas stations.

Every moving part of every make and model of automobile, and the lubrication spot, is shown on the ingenious contrivance.

In 1937 traffic accidents killed 15,400 pedestrians, and 10,300 deaths occurred as the result of collisions between two or more motor vehicles.

QUICK STARTING IS MADE EASY

"Will she start quickly and easily?"

This is one of the thoughts uppermost in the mind of an automobilist when he approaches his garage on a cold winter day, according to investigations made by service station men.

It's one of the reasons, say local Mobilgas men, for inauguration of Winterproof inspection service.

"Your car will start quickly," they declare, "if proper attention has been given to various inspections, including battery, spark plugs, etc., and the gas tank is well filled with winter Mobilgas."

Approximately 10 miles of bus roads have been constructed within the grounds of the New York World's Fair, and 100 buses will operate over them.

106,000 Sacks Of Beans Harvested

SMELTZER, Oct. 20.—Beans of growers affiliated with the Smeltzer Lima Bean Growers' association totaled approximately 106,000 sacks. Last year the crop totaled 115,000 sacks.

Some shipments of the new bean crop have already gone out from the house. Most of the beans were trucked to the harbor and shipped out by boat. Thirty women are employed on the cleaning tables, where the season lasts for approximately five months.

CRICKETS SNUB NOISE CODE

PITTSBURG, Cal. — (UP) — "It just isn't cricket," police mournfully responded to a woman who insisted that they intervene to prevent the noise that had been keeping her awake for nights. "It's those fool crickets," she declared. "They crick or whatever it is they do, all night long, and I can't sleep."

WINTER WEATHER AHEAD!

The heat, grime and dust of hard Summer driving have done things to your car...and now comes Winter, with its low temperatures and severe weather conditions that impose new and even more serious demands.

Your safety—the proper operation of your car—and protection of the investment you have in it—necessitate that it be in proper condition to withstand the hardships of Winter driving.

The change from Summer grades to correct Winter grades of fuel and lubricants is important—but that alone isn't enough. General's 12-Point Winter-proof Service includes critical inspection of the vital points of wear. This is a precautionary measure of which every motorist should take advantage. And it's entirely free—except, of course, for needed materials you order.

Why not have your car Winter-proofed now? Remember—it's better to be safe than sorry. Drive in today where you see the Flying Red Horse.

LATE NEWS FROM ORANGE

BALLOT FACTS TOLD P.-T.A.

ORANGE, Oct. 20.—Dr. George Bemis, head of adult education in Orange county, was speaker at the afternoon meeting of the P.-T. A. yesterday, choosing as his subject "Measures on the November Ballot Dangerous to Public Schools."

Mrs. Norris J. Allen, president, led the business meeting and introduced the room mothers and their committees for the year. Each teacher was introduced and presented with a gift. Teachers are: Marvel Baker, kindergarten; Marie Danneman, principal and teacher of first grade; Florence Nixon, second grade; Margaret Babcock, third grade; Pauline Thompson, fourth grade; Verie Chambers, fifth grade.

Mrs. Ruth Alden was presented in a program of vocal music. She sang "Slave Song" and "Brown Bird Singing" accompanied by Mrs. Raymond Treverrow.

Refreshments were served from a lace covered tea table centered with a bowl of pansies and lighted with yellow tapers. Mrs. Florence Nixon and Mrs. Marvel Baker were at the urns. Hostesses were Mesdames Edgar Marks, Howard Towle, Pack Mayes, Vernon Madison, Norris J. Allen, Wilbur Nade, Leslie Clem, Otis Miller, Charles Wyle, G. E. Williams, Arthur T. Hobbs, Frederick Schildmeyer and Miss Marie Danneman.

Brea Girl Honor Guest At Shower

BREA, Oct. 20.—Miss Judah Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith, was honored with a pre-nuptial shower at the home of Mrs. Roy Monroe this week. She will marry Peter Maron of Bishop soon.

The affair was a miscellaneous shower. The decorations were carried out in pink and white. The hostesses were Mrs. William Richards and Mrs. Phyllis McClure.

The guests included Mrs. Irma Brawley, Mrs. Joe Smith, Mrs. Joe Wade, Miss Beverly Smith, Mrs. Louise Beal, Mrs. Floyd Monroe, Miss Mary Edna McCabe, Mrs. Anna Pope, Mrs. Virgil Kiger, Mrs. Roy Monroe, Mrs. R. T. Smith, Miss Margaret Pendleton, Mrs. Mary Montgomery, Mrs. Mary Jane Netterman, Mrs. Melvin McMechan, Mrs. Henry Alsop, Mrs. S. L. Burgess and Mrs. Louise Young.

W. R. C. PLANS PARADE FLOAT

ORANGE, Oct. 20.—Plans for a float to be entered in the Armistice day parade in Orange November 11 were made yesterday at the regular meeting of the Woman's Relief corps, with Mrs. Julia B. Pratt presiding.

Americanization Theme

Charles E. Lee, son of one of the members, Mrs. Mabel Lee, offered to donate his services for the designing and building of the float, which will carry out the Americanization theme.

The W. R. C. will attend the night memorial services in the stadium of Orange Union High school November 10 in a body. It was decided. Donations were voted to the Orange welfare body, and the Orange County Tuberculosis association.

Mrs. George Smith, 678 North Shafter street, invited the members to her home for their monthly party next Tuesday. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Blanche Campbell and Mrs. Lucy Robinson.

Card Party Slated

A public card party will be held by the corps the evening of November 2. Play will begin at 8 o'clock and Mrs. Julia B. Pratt, Mrs. Murley Harrison and Mrs. Effie Williams will be in charge. Mesdames Hattie Buhman, Meta Vail, Effie Williams and Della Hoskins were hostesses. Mrs. Jennie Williams was a guest and gave several readings.

GIRL RESERVES OUTLINE PLANS

ORANGE, Oct. 19.—Girl Reserve clubs of Orange union high school met last night to plan events for the next few months. Freshmen met at the Y.W.C.A., with Miss Bernice Williamson in charge, assisted by Miss Eldene Watson.

Couple To Observe 50th Anniversary

SEAL BEACH, Oct. 20.—Celebrating 50 years of married life, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Armstrong, 129 Twelfth street, will be at home to old friends and relatives at a reception at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Bert Redfern, 11510 Menlo street, Los Angeles, Sunday afternoon and evening.

Married at Evans, Colo., on October 20, 1888, when Miss Mary Parks became the present Mrs. Armstrong, they have two children, Mrs. Redfern, the hostess Sunday, and a son, Vernon Armstrong of Montrose, Colo.; four grandchildren, Mrs. Merrill Terry, of Salt Lake City, Mrs. Robert McElrath of Spokane, Wash., Mrs. Winifred Nieuwandt and Maxwell Hobson of Los Angeles, and the great grandchildren, Terry and Marilyn Nieuwandt, and Caroline Mae Terry.

Veteran newspaper man, Armstrong has, in the 56 years he has followed the profession, been connected with newspapers from New York to California. Beginning in the work at Binghamton, N. Y., in 1880, his career includes service as first editor of the first daily paper in Alhambra, which was launched in June, 1913, as the Alhambra Advocate.

Armstrong is active here in Townsend club work, being president of the local club.

Dinner Observes 89th Anniversary

ORANGE, Oct. 20.—Mrs. V. E. Dwinell celebrated her 89th birthday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. S. Ralph, North Prospect avenue, Tuesday. Mrs. Dwinell has lived her entire life with the exception of the first nine months in the state of California. Before she was a year old, Mrs. Dwinell was brought from her birthplace at Sullivan, Mo., to Amador county during the gold rush days of 1850.

Traveling by ox-team, the journey was accomplished in several months' time. Mrs. Dwinell spent her girlhood in Tulare county, where she was married, coming to Orange four years ago to make her home with her daughter. She is 14 months younger than Mrs. Margaret C. Bittle, 338 South Orange street, who is thought to be Orange county's sole 49'er.

The birthday anniversary was observed at a dinner at which Mrs. Angeline Courtney was a special guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph. She is a long time friend of Mrs. Dwinell. A member of the W. C. T. U. and the First Christian church, Mrs. Dwinell received many gifts, cards and bouquets from members of these organizations as well as from other friends.

ORANGE PERSONALS

ORANGE, Oct. 20.—Mrs. P. E. Hallman, East Chapman avenue, is spending the week in San Francisco, where she is visiting friends.

Members of the drama section of the Orange Women's club will hold an initial meeting at the Orange Woman's clubhouse tomorrow at 2 p. m.

Members of the Methodist church enjoyed a family night dinner Wednesday night served by two circles of the Woman's Aid society. A male quartet from the Spanish-American institute at Gardena gave a musical program.

VILLA PARK

VILLA PARK, Oct. 20.—Miss Dorothy Flintham was guest artist at the Music Art association luncheon at Daniger's Tuesday. Mrs. Helen B. Flintham, mother of the singer, was a guest.

Mrs. Effie Marsh of Culver City, was a caller in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Reish Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Marsh formerly resided in Villa Park.

GARDEN AND HOME

USE SHEARS
WITH CAUTION

With the coming of fall there is a natural eagerness to remove excess growth and growth that shows signs of going dormant.

Some degree of caution must be exercised in handling the pruning shears, especially in the matter of pruning flowering shrubs. Unless one knows definitely the proper procedure to follow with each individual shrub, less damage will be done to the garden by delaying any attempt at pruning until it is possible to secure expert advice.

The berried shrubs, such as pyracantha, cotoneasters, are best pruned by removing the berried branches for decorating purposes, cutting them well down to the base of the plant. Should they be preferred for garden decoration, the shoots which have borne berries should be removed in like manner.

The spring-flowering shrubs and trees, including the lilac, flowering peaches, and other flowering fruits, should not be pruned in the fall. Fall pruning removes flowering wood already to set to buds.

Glycerine Keeps
Fall Leaves Fresh

I learned in England last summer that branches of autumn leaves will keep fresh indefinitely if glycerine is added to the water in the vase. The proportion given me was two parts water to one of glycerine. Copper beech leaves were in perfect condition after six months. "Commercial" glycerine is much cheaper than the refined product and, it is claimed, gives much better results, imparting a lovely sheen to the leaves.

I tried this plan last autumn with abelia leaves, using drug-store glycerine, one-third to two-thirds water, and the leaves are still beautifully fresh, not one having dried or dropped.—Marjorie Y. Gibson, in "Horticulture."

PLANTING CALENDAR

Flower seeds to sow: Alyssum, anemone, blazing star, brachycomia, brodiaea, calendula, clarkia, calliopsis, godetia, larkspur, linaria, linum, lupin, mignonette, nemesis, monarda, poppies, ranunculus, rustproof snapdragon, zinnia, virginian stock, wild flowers. Start in flats, English daisy, pansy, snapdragon, stock, and all perennials.

Bulbs to set: Amaryllis, anemone, baby glads, calla, crocus, daffodil, freesia, hyacinth, iris, ixia, jonquil, leucocoryne, madonna and regal lilies, narcissus, ornithogalum, ranunculus, sparaxis, tritoma, tulip, walsleya.

Vegetables: All hardy kinds, especially kale, kohlrabi, lettuce. Set our onion sets.

Large trees and shrubs are usually planted later, but any plants grown in cans or containers at the nurseries—hibiscus, oleanders, roses, gardenias—may be set out now. New borders and beds should be all means be planned now in order to get the spring flowering plants well started before fall rains.

Perennials should be divided and replanted. New seedlings, stock, snapdragons, calendulas, primroses, pansies, may be set out in October. Many cuttings may be started now, including penstemons, geraniums and most plants from the herb garden.

Lawns should be re-seeded and fertilized now.

MAGIC

I conjure rabbits from a hat! A gardener I with magic powers, I work my spells on paper bags. And I set to turn them into flowers.

This tiny wrapper here, contains A hundred gloves for foxes styled. And from this packet I shall draw A host of tigerlilies wild.

And spurs for jarks, and tails for cats—I summon them from small grown bags. By sleight of hand unparalleled By any rabbit-conjuring wags.

USEFUL HERB

Sweet Balm is a perennial herb which should be in every garden because of its delightful scent of lemon and mint. It is used in lotions and medicines and is the ancestor of cologne. The fresh sprigs, used in fruit drinks, give a delicious flavor. It is also used to flavor soups, stews and salads.—The Minnesota Horticulturist.

CLUB BEGINS FIFTH YEAR OF ACTIVITY

Is President

The Better Gardens club of Santa Ana began its fifth year of activity this fall. The club came into being when it was found that the hobby of many of the teachers of Julia Lathrop junior high school were growing flowers. These teachers, meeting to discuss garden problems, organized the club of which Mrs. Chester Wolff now is serving as president.

Following the organization of the group, others interested in gardening joined with the teachers until the club attained a membership of 20, its present number. Miss Hazel Thrasher was the first president and Miss Maude Wherry the first program chairman. Other past presidents are Mrs. Ethel Sinke and Mrs. T. E. McLeod.

The clubs, as well as the individual members, have had entries each year in the Orange County Fall Garden show and each spring in the flower show staged by the Orange Woman's club.

This spring the members of Better Gardens club were responsible for a school flower show at Julia Lathrop school.

Those who spent several hours viewing the hundreds of lovely arrangements at this show, expressed a wish at that time that the show would become a yearly event. Better Gardens club in staging the show, carried out one of the objectives of the Orange County Garden clubs—that of interesting children and young people growing plants and flowers.

LONDON (UP)—A picture of a small was the sensation of the annual exhibition of the Royal Photographic Society of Great Britain here.

Actually there are two pictures, "portraits" of the perfume of a lily and the smell of camphor. They look like nothing on earth, but that they are actually photographs of odors is vouched for by the catalogue, by officials of the society, by the French exhibitor, F. Breitenbach, and by Prof. H. Deveau, the French scientist whose investigations are thus represented.

This is the official explanation: "The emission of an odor involves volatilization of material. If an odoriferous material is enclosed in a cell close to a clean mercury surface, it is possible to collect on the surface of the mercury a monomolecular layer of the volatilizing or odoriferous substance.

"If the mercury surface initially is covered with talk powder, the gradual formation of the monomolecular layer may be observed as the talk is gradually pushed away from the point immediately below the specimen of material."

Through the Garden Gate

With MARAH ADAMS

Beauty has success at her fingertips. Persons owning corner lots have discovered this. In order to prevent pedestrians from wearing a path across their lawns, many corner lot owners have planted the corners to flowers. Strange as it may seem, not a person ever thinks of tramping across these triangular flower beds. Beauty prevails where consideration of property rights of others fails.

Mrs. Lucy Marshall, 323 South Garvey street, last fall planted a bouquet of chrysanthemums. In fact she bought the bouquet just for the purpose. This year she is reaping her reward. She planted twelve cuttings and of the dozen one lived to reproduce the blossoms she admired in a florist's window.

These flowers are small and pink with deep rose centers, the clusters being very attractive. The "daisy from China" has been developed into so many colors and types that it would be rather hard to choose which ones to buy in an experiment of this sort. Had Mrs. Marshall used one of the two commercial preparations of auxins or hormones the percentage of plants from her bouquet no doubt would have been greater.

Cuttings soaked in these solutions produce roots quickly. Names of the two commercial products closely follow the terms auxin and hormone. Almost 600 cuttings may be grown from a package of the smaller size.

Mrs. Vernon Shippee, president of the Orange Woman's club Garden section, used the solution very successfully last year. Chrysanthemums were put in it and set out in July, blossoming at the same time and making more vigorous growth than cuttings sans the solution, set out in May.

Mrs. Shippee wrote an article for the garden page last year telling of her success in growing cuttings in this way. Since that time she has received several letters from a woman gardener in Nebraska who read the article and sought further information.

Saw some very attractive flower containers in a shop the other day. They are made for patio or sun room and are in the form of wheelbarrows, tables and patio furniture.

Full colors, spring colors and even other colors are to be found reflected in the shutters and trim for the many, many new houses springing up like magic everywhere. In a drive around along North Olive, North Ross and cross streets in this district, there were houses with rose colored shutters, dark blue, bright green, light blue, dull green, bright green, daffodil yellow, deep bright red, cream shutters, white shutters, and even one striking home with black shutters.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Harrington, 1114 North Lowell street, since building a new home two years ago, have had a front yard planted to the vine commonly known as "myrtle". English ivy was planted at the south side of the front yard around a half walnut tree and in the parking.

At first, say the home owners, the front yard was very beautiful, starred with blue blossoms as the vines crept close to the soil. Then the vines began growing; attaining heights of three feet. They have been cut back several times and now the Harringtons have decided to put in a lawn of grass. For a hillside home, Mrs. Harrington says, the myrtle would be ideal.

At 721 West Eighth street, is an unusual and eye-pleasing combination of colors. Pale green home with yellow shutters, trim and trellises.

Fences play an important part in home beautification and old. It is interesting to note the many types of fences, ranging from the prim picket fence to low barriers with bars crossed at intervals, or sometimes carried from round post to round post straight across.

High board fences have come into their own again after a long period of unpopularity. They are painted to harmonize with the home and provide privacy in the back yard as well as safety for small children. Decoration of these fences inside the yard makes a problem most gardeners will attack eagerly.

A fence in any neighborhood should conform to the eye around it to a certain degree and should not clash violently with neighboring structures thus bringing a sour note into an harmonious whole. A fence should not be offensive.

Bridge Section
In First Meeting

COSTA MESA, Oct. 20.—The first meeting of the newly organized bridge section of the Costa Mesa Friday Afternoon club was held yesterday afternoon. High score award went to Mrs. E. K. Kirby with Mrs. J. C. Payne, second, and Mrs. George Healey, consolation.

The group will meet the first Wednesday of each month with Mrs. Kirby and Mrs. Gunning Butler as hostesses for the November 8 meeting. Mrs. Merwin J. Fickas, Mrs. George Healey and Mrs. Glenn Cheeseman were hostesses for the meeting yesterday. Autumn flowers were used in decorating.

Present were Mrs. N. O. Mellott, Mrs. Leroy Anderson, Mrs. Sam Crawford, Mrs. H. H. Thayer, Mrs. E. K. Kirby, Mrs. Gunning Butler, Mrs. J. C. Gardner, Mrs. J. C. Payne, Mrs. Homer Mellott, Mrs. Merwin J. Fickas, Mrs. Glenn Cheeseman, Mrs. George Healey, Mrs. Ray Wallace, Mrs. M. J. Hostetter, Mrs. L. R. Daughbaugh, Mrs. McBroome and Mrs. Carl Volberding.

That's Where Corn Grows Tall

"That's where the tall corn grows!" But in this case it's not the black soil of Iowa, but a shallow tub in the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster. Dr. V. H. Morris, expert in bio-chemistry at the station, is shown admiring the lush growth produced entirely by chemical means, without so much as a dab of real soil.

Orange County Gardening

By Mrs. H. Cardozo Sloan, Corona Del Mar

Being sound advice and interesting comment on what to plant and how to care for Orange county gardens.

STORM DAMAGE

Tree lovers, especially those who have lived in New England, grieve for the many magnificent trees which were destroyed in the great storm which devastated that portion of the country in September.

Many fine trees on private estates were destroyed as well as many historical trees which were so much a part of the charm and beauty of New England. Ancient elms in the Public Gardens of Boston and on the old Boston Common, in the yard at Harvard University, on the campus of Dartmouth College at Hanover, N. H., were laid low.

A great loss to the country horticulturally was the destruction of over 1500 trees at the Arnold Arboretum at Boston. This is considered the finest public garden in America, filled with rare trees and shrubs from all parts of the world. Many of these rare trees were completely uprooted; in some cases whole stands of pines, hemlocks and poplars were completely destroyed. Various agencies will cooperate in the replacing of these trees, but many years—centuries, even—must pass before they will bring again to the New England landscape the grandeur and beauty which this storm has taken away.

Shrub Repaired

Apropos of damaged trees, shrubs and plants in general, I noticed in a recent issue of "Horticulture" a method used by one woman in repairing a tall shrub which split near the middle of the trunk. The broken trunk was held upright, two lightweight wooden splints were placed on either side of it and the whole bound firmly together with gauze bandages. This was done quickly after the break and the shrub healed so readily that it didn't even drop a leaf.

The experiment was so successful that now, in that garden, like treatment is given to any broken plant which it is desired to save, and all respond favorably to the first-aid treatment.

TREES THAT FLOWER

It will soon be the best season for tree planting in Southern California, and while trees are in our minds today, shall we mention a few which, besides other desirable qualities, have the grace of attractive flowering, and should be more widely used as ornamental trees.

There is, for one, that decidedly handsome tree, harpullia arborea. This grows into a dense, round-topped tree some 40 to 50 feet tall, and has a luxuriant foliage of bright, glossy green. The flowers are insignificant, but the interesting seedpods, borne in large clusters, are a brilliant red. This color appears in mid-winter, making a natural and beautiful "Christmas tree."

Hymenoporus flavum owes its chief charm to its masses of long, tubular creamy yellow blossoms, which are deliciously perfumed. This is in spring and early summer, when the tree is indeed beautiful. But it is a pleasant tree at all times of the year, being of a slender, symmetrical, pyramidal shape, with handsome foliage.

Hymenoporus comes from Australia, where it grows up to 50 feet, but with us usually only half that height. It is related to the pittosporums, and its name refers to the winged seeds. Sophomora secundiflora is a small tree (25 ft. tall), native to Texas and New Mexico, very desirable for Southern California because of the intensely fragrant, violet-sweet flowers, which are borne in spring in racemes of delicate pea-like blossoms, blue-violet in color. It makes a symmetrical,

SERIAL STORY

MURDER TO MUSIC

BY NARD JONES

COPYRIGHT, 1938 NLA SERVICE, INC.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
MYRA DOMBEY—heroine.
Wife of the sensational swing band leader.
ROBERT TAIT—hero. Newspaper photographer—detective.
ANNE LESTER—Myra's closest friend.
ANNIE FEELY—officer assigned to investigate Ludden Dombey's murder.

Yesterday, Dombey is found badly in debt. Tait offers to buy out Macy's share in the band, but Macy refuses. Could it be that he wanted a club over Myra's?

CHAPTER XVI

HAD not the Swingsters been in such a precarious spot, Tait would willingly have paid Leonard Macy $5000 for his interest. But at the moment it was an impossibility; and he had the added feeling that, even if Macy were offered that amount he would refuse.

Tait wished that he knew more about the circumstances under which the share had been purchased. But the only man who had that information was Harris Rogers, and Tait had no desire to encounter him now.

It was a disconsolate and bewildered Bob Tait who returned to his own room from Leonard Macy's luxurious apartment, the certified check still in his pocket. As he opened the door, he heard his telephone ringing furiously. Tait hurried to take it up.

"Robert Tait?" He did not recognize the voice.

"Yes, this is Tait."

"I have some interesting information about the Ludden Dombey murder."

Tait hesitated. "Why don't you notify Feely down at police headquarters?"

"I can't do that, for reasons I don't explain over the telephone."

"Then come up here. I'll be glad to see you."

"I can't do that, either. If you want to hear what I have to say, you'll have to come to my address."

It sounded like a trick, and Tait was instantly aware of it. Yet he couldn't afford to pass up any leads. "All right," he said, "let me have your address. I'll come right over."

The man gave an address which Tait recognized as on the very edge of town, in a district once a factory area. "Are you sure of that address?" he asked. "I didn't know there were any residences there."

An unpleasant laugh answered him. "I can't be choosy about where I live. I've got a room on the top floor of what used to be a raincoat factory. Don't come unless you want to. It's all up to you."

"I'll be there," he replaced the receiver, and stared at the wall. He kept thinking of Harris Rogers and his threat. Then he rushed the notion aside. Perhaps this was the very musician that Dannie Feely had been hunting for days. It was certainly logical that George K. Weeks had retrogressed from that gray lodging house to a floor of an abandoned raincoat factory.

Tait went to his bureau, took out a small revolver and slipped it into his pocket. Then he telephoned for a taxi, and went down to the curb to wait for it.

The address puzzled even the taxi driver. "Say, that's a new one on me, brother. Sure you got the right address?"

"I think so. Remember the old Millbay addition, where all those red factory buildings are?"

"Oh—yeah, I remember that. There ain't anything doing in that part of town now."

Tait grinned. "There may be tonight. Let's go."

The driver strapped down the metal bag and started the cab. "It's okay with me," he said.

It was a fairly long drive to the Millbay addition, but then began the more tedious job of finding the street and number which Tait had received over the telephone. Finally they found the street, a small dead-end affair. "Well," muttered the driver. "We can't go wrong on a dinky street like this."

"I hope you're right," said Tait. "Isn't that a light on the top floor of that building down there? The fellow I'm to see lives on the top floor of one of these old factory buildings."

"It's either a light or a reflection from the moon." The driver piloted toward the curb. "I'll take a look at the number on the door—if there is one. Twenty-seven Thirty, you said it was."

BEFORE Tait could think to restrain him, the driver had jumped out of the car and into the night. He saw him cross the sidewalk, strike a match on the side of the doorway. The match flared for a scant moment, then went out. Suddenly Tait heard a yell and the sound of a body falling hard to the pavement.

He yanked his revolver from his pocket and started across the sidewalk. As he neared the building he caught the scent of a faint perfume, hauntingly familiar.

"Where are you?" he called to the driver.

There was a groan almost at his feet. Before kneeling down, Tait tried to peer into the darkness of the street. "What's wrong? What happened?"

"Somebody—somebody took a whack at me with a knife," the driver gasped. "It—it came out of that doorway. I—I saw the flash of it just as I struck the match."

Squatted down beside the wounded man, Tait turned warily on his feet. Gradually his eyes became accustomed to the darkness. He was literally afraid to move, but now he began to see the outlines of the doorway. It was empty. He had seen no one go up or down the street, and they must certainly have gone through that door.

He got up, approached it gingerly. Swiftly he kicked it open with one foot and sprang back, his weapon ready. Nothing opened to his gaze but a dimly-lit stairway.

"Listen," Tait turned to the luckless driver. "Are you badly hurt? If I get you to the car can you stand it a while?"

"I think it's my shoulder and arm—but you ain't going in there, are you?"

"I want to take a look up that stairway. I'll just be a minute—and then I'll drive you to a hospital pronto."

"You go up that stairway and I'll never get to a hospital, and neither will you. It'll be the morgue."

TAIT got one of the man's arms around his shoulders. "Come on. I'll get you onto the back seat of the cab where you can take it easy."

Against the taximan's feeble protests, Tait managed to get him into the cab. A hurried examination showed that there were two knife slashes, neither very deep. But there was no mistaking that the assailant had meant business. The sudden striking of the match, practically in his face, had probably spoiled his lunge.

"Stay back against the cushions. I won't be a minute." Tait went to the doorway again. The stairway was still clear. He could see to the first landing, and a little beyond. But he could not determine the position of the dim light.

Stealthily, his gun ready, he started up the stair. Again, and stronger now, he caught the odor of perfume. Suddenly he remembered that scent. It had been worn by the honey-colored blond who had walked out of the Claremont. He had almost collided with her the night he had gone into the apartment to see if Anne Lester had found Myra. It was an odd scent, one that wouldn't be encountered often. What was it doing here, Bob Tait wondered as he took another cautious step upward.

YELLOW BORDER
HELD CHEERFUL

Yellow is a cheerful color and is a favorite with many amateur growers. A yellow border with some blue plantings to go with the pale yellows, scarlets and clear reds for the brilliant yellows, and a little lavender for the orange yellows, gives a strip of brilliance and beauty.

Among flowers, the annuals furnish a fine list of yellows of various textures, tones and intensities. The dwarf sunflowers are good for the tall portion of the border. They are dwarf only as compared with their tall varieties, which may grow from 8 to 10 feet.

The dwarfs reach only 3 feet and have delicate flowers and foliage compared with the old-fashioned barnyard sunflower. They are known as the cucumber-leaved variety.

In considering flowering trees, the new dwarf eucalyptus should not be overlooked. These are lovelier in bloom than anyone who has not seen them can imagine. They are small growing, the tallest only about 20 feet, several 12 to 15 feet, some only 4 to 8 feet tall. Those who should know say they are absolutely not the soil robbers that their taller brothers are, and may be planted safely in the small garden, without fear of harm to other plants. Some have brilliant red blossoms, some deep crimson, some rose, several yellow. I think one of the choicest is E. caesia, which grows to 15 feet, has beautiful weeping foliage of a sea-green color, and long, drooping racemes of lovely flowers, rose-pink with yellow stamens. Worth looking into carefully, these dwarf eucalyptus.

Many more flowering trees might be named did space permit. If you have room, find one which will fit your need and taste and plant it this winter. Nothing lovelier than a flowering tree.

TYPES OF SMALL FLOWERED ANNUAL SUNFLOWERS FOR THE YELLOW BORDER.

straw, cucumbers, in the catalogues, and range from a creamy white to intense yellows with black centers, and the latest development gives a strain with red zonings.

They are easily raised annuals and fine for cutting, the petals being long and often gracefully twisted.

Along with the sunflowers for tall yellows is the hummanna or bush California poppy.

The calliopsis, annual coreopsis, with golden flowers zoned with crimson is indispensable in the yellow borders, and the marigolds, both tall and dwarf with their cousins, the favorite calendula or pot marigold, will furnish beautiful cutting material. The California poppies furnish low growing brilliant masses of yellow.

The annual chrysanthemums give softer yellows. In a burnt orange of glistening texture unknown in other annuals are the African daisies, dimorphotheca. There are other shades from white to creamy yellow as well as brilliant oranges all excellent for cutting.

The annual blanket flowers, or

Capistrano Group
To Present Plays

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Oct. 20.—A meeting was held in the high school auditorium Tuesday evening for the purpose of re-organizing the Capistrano Community Players.

It was decided to give a series of one-act plays. The selection will be made next week and casting will begin at once. Membership is open to all those who are interested and they are urged to attend the next meeting, which will be held Tuesday evening at the high school auditorium. James Cook, member of the high school faculty, will again be director of the organization.

Hold Last Rites
For Mrs. Fellings

FULLERTON, Oct. 20.—Christian Science services for Mrs. Harry Lee Fellings, 50, were conducted Tuesday afternoon at McAlay and Suters funeral chapel in Fullerton. Private services followed. Death occurred Saturday at the Monte Vista sanatorium in Anaheim.

Survivors are the widow, Harry Lee Fellings, of Fullerton and Balboa Island; her mother, Mrs. Emma Kenney, of Fullerton; a sister, Mrs. Hazel Edwards, of Placentia, and a brother, A. Lee Kenney, of Kansas City, Mo.

ARE SOCIALISM AND COMMUNISM RELIGIONS?

As we hear Rev. Rex A. Mitchell of Paso Robles, California speak and point out that we are teaching socialism and communism in the public schools, contrary to the laws of the State, the statement made by Dorothy Thompson in her column, as to what Communism really is, tends to substantiate Rev. Mitchell's contention.

Dorothy Thompson, under her column headed, "The Primary Inalienable Right," has the following to say regarding Communism:

"The Communist party is not even a political party, in the accurate sense of the word. It is an international conspiratorial movement, exactly as the Nazi party is. It is one of those curious and extremely dangerous phenomena of this age in which we live—a secular church, with a creed, a dogma, a hierarchy, an inquisition, and with rigidly authoritarian and dictatorial leadership—exactly as the Nazi party is.

"And the 'Pope' of this secular church has his headquarters in Moscow, and his name is Stalin, just as the 'Pope' of the Nazi church has his headquarters in Berchtesgaden, and is named Hitler. * * *

"The enrolled membership of the Communist party gives no inkling of its real size or the amount of influence that it wields, in the trades unions, for instance, and over the government in Washington, particularly over certain independent agencies of that government.

"It is a tiny, secret and closely knit unit inside a trades union, or a government agency, or a WPA project, or a newspaper, or an editorial office, or any other instrument that affects social organization or instruments of opinion.

"A great many Communist ideas are being carried out by people who would be horrified if they had the remotest idea of what they are doing. They think they are acting freely under the advice of free agents, when they are the victims of a plain conspiracy."

AIMING FOR NEW HIGH

Aiming low for a new high sounds like a paradoxical objective. Yet that is just what the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health association, along with the National Tuberculosis association and its some 1500 affiliated state and local associations, are doing.

They are striving to bring about a new low death rate from tuberculosis. The number of deaths from this disease has been constantly decreasing during the last 30 years, and it is believed that with continuous effort tuberculosis eventually can be eradicated.

Orange county has a higher percentage of tuberculosis cases than the average county. And because tuberculosis is a communicable disease, it is important to halt its ravages everywhere. This year the Orange county association is urging every person to take tuberculin tests in order to protect the family against the dread disease.

With funds raised by the sale of Christmas seals, which will be sent out here around Thanksgiving time, tuberculosis associations have been instrumental in creating a nation-wide machinery to combat the insidious sickness that for many years was the leading cause of death in the United States.

Let us review some of the results which comparatively small sums of money raised in hundreds of local communities have helped to bring about. Today there are 1200 institutions, sanatoria and hospitals, providing 95,000 beds for the treatment of tuberculosis patients. Over 10,000 public health nurses devote their energies to tuberculosis work. There are 1000 clinics where men, women and children may go for advice and diagnosis. Well-organized rehabilitation work is conducted, while medical research is making valuable contributions to our knowledge of the tuberculosis germ and its effect upon mankind.

The public today knows much more about the prevention and treatment of tuberculosis than it did 30 years ago. Because of this we believe the tuberculosis associations are not too optimistic in aiming for a low death rate, which will mean a new high in accomplishments. We all have a chance to work with them toward this goal when we buy and use Christmas Seals during the holiday season.

A WOMAN SPEAKING

(American Tax Payers' League Bulletin)

From Castle to custom house: When I was a young girl going to school I was taught that the home was a castle; that even a king could not enter without an invitation. I marveled at the wisdom and ability of statesmen who could endow a lowly hovel with such tremendous power and throw around it a halo of sacredness that no one dared to desecrate with their presence. I longed for such a home. I wanted a castle for my very own, with a fireplace, a family and a purse beyond the reach of the vandalism of man. The realization that the Army and the Navy would guard, protect and maintain these inalienable rights at all hazards gave me a thrill. I loved a Government that could do such wonderful things.

The home—the king's counting house: However, I have been disillusioned. The home—the castle of my dreams—has been turned into a custom house. Out of the weekly earnings of the family the revenue agent takes 20 cents of every dollar, and if the Government was making payments on the Public Debt, it would take another large slice of the family income.

Instead of my home being a place the king cannot enter, I can scarcely enter for the king. My home has become his counting house and I am told that the family purse belongs to the Government. Whether my kitchen is ransacked by law or by outlaws, the result to me is the same—an empty pantry.

Where the money goes: When the American housewife rings the dinner bell, 4,000,000 Government employees and 11,000,000 unemployed are the first to sit at the table. They are star boarders, or at least boarders with stars. Those of us who provide the leaves and fishes for the feast and serve them must sit at the second table. It is the will of Congress. When the housewife sets the table for five, she must add three plates for invisible guests, and my how these ghost boarders can eat! Our children do well to live upon the crumbs that fall

Sharing The Comforts Of Life

By R. C. Hoiles

BRITAIN AT BAY, LIPPMANN, WHY?

Walter Lippmann, in his syndicated article, says that it is not a coincidence that the Munich settlement is followed by the Arab rebellion in Palestine, and by the Japanese invasion of South China. This, he says, is because it has been demonstrated that Great Britain and Russia can be intimidated. He contends that though the Munich settlement was a bloodless affair, it was in every other respect the equivalent of a major military disaster; it vitally disarmed 25 divisions of excellent troops and an air force of a very considerable power. (I presume he means by the surrender of Sudeten and the weakening of Czechoslovakia.)

Mr. Lippmann is very much concerned whether the British Empire will be able to wield the influence of the balance of the power that it has in the past. He says there are three serious fronts that face England. The first is the Western Empire in Belgium along the Franco-German frontier and the waters around the British Isles. The second area of vital defense is in the Mediterranean from Gibraltar to Suez. The third area of vital defense is in the Far East and there the British are in danger of being driven out of China.

Lippmann contends the British have always known that these were the vulnerable spots of their position as a world power. He says the most important question in the whole world is whether the British Empire is to survive this concerted attack on the three vital centers. If they are not, it will even affect the Monroe Doctrine.

Why This Retreat of Democracy

The question that every lover of liberty should ask is why is a totalitarian state advancing when the democratic countries are receding. Those people who have read something of history and of economics, are convinced that it is because democracy does not follow the fundamental principles of life. It makes pleasant and agreeable the acts of the individual who does not strengthen the social unit as a whole and penalizes the acts of the individual who does strengthen the social unit as a whole; and these violations of the fundamental principles of life have so weakened the democracies, including the United States, the social units that follow this first law of life are becoming so strong that their will prevail.

Those who are alarmed at this advance of the totalitarian states and the lack of freedom, recognize that the United States has been one of the worst offenders of the violators of this first law of life; that it is now so weak it cannot now even preserve order at home. Even a nation like Germany and Italy and Japan that does not have near the natural resources we have, nor the total population, recognize our weakness and believe that we cannot be strong when we permit the majority rule to be our guide on the fundamental principles of life.

If the United States were a nation now, as it was in principle from 1863 to 1913 when initiative was encouraged and not discouraged we would be so strong and powerful that the dictators would hesitate to so suppress the principles of true liberal government even in Europe. Our so-called democracies have adopted the policy that we can have more by limiting production, by combinations for restraint of trade, by artificial wages and prices and limitations. While the totalitarian states know they can only have more by producing more.

There is a very definite reason why Germany, Italy and Japan are progressing and growing stronger and the democracies are crumbling. And unless the policies of the so-called democracies are changed from the right of the majority to rule over the initiative of the minority and we adopt the principle of the greatest possible liberty for each individual to add to the wealth of the world, the voting majority democracies will continue to crumble and the totalitarian states will become more powerful.

from their table. I am told that among them are desperate men who will go haywire and wreck society if they are not pampered, petted and ministered unto; that I must serve them in fear and trembling lest I offend. Where are the Army and the Navy and the Star Spangled Banner that proudly waves over the home of the brave? Where is my castle—the ideal of my dreams?

Declaration of "Dependence": I am told that the Declaration of Independence has been outmoded; that we are now operating under a "Declaration of Dependence"; that Government has endowed all citizens with the inalienable right to be fed, sheltered and clothed at public expense; that now and forever man can live by the sweat of the brow of his neighbor.

It is a fictitious document; it has no signatures, and the Liberty Bell did not ring, but it has taken away my freedom, my right to own, and my independence. My purse is gone—snatched by my Government by a Declaration of Dependence. If I protest I face a bayonet. "My country 'tis of thee, sweet land of liberty; the home of the brave and the land of the free."

A citizen without a purse is without a will. We will soon become a nation of wards, that only a Dictator can govern; a country where the most servile are the most powerful; where the weakest become the strongest. We cannot decrease success without increasing failure. Such is the inevitable outcome of a policy of "Dependence."

This Declaration of Dependence has enlarged mass liberty and freedom until any person can sit at my table without my consent. My liability to give is only limited by their ability to receive. Public plunder is organized, legalized and supervised by Government on request of those who apply for it. "Ask of Government and ye shall receive of ME." The title to the necessities of life has been transferred to the public; the surplus the Government takes for its very own. My family gets what is left.

Youth and old age meet: By this Declaration of Dependence Government has prolonged youth and lowered old age until the twain have almost met. There are only a few work years, with day and hours limited by where a middle age can earn his keep. During almost two-thirds of the lifetime of a normal man he is a legal ward, too young or too old to work, and his earning power is limited by law.

The Government star boarders: I am told that as the dinner bell resounds throughout the land many farmers desert their farms, laborers abandon their factories, and many of those employed give up their jobs, enchanted by the siren call of a free lunch; the dives belch forth their filth and the loafers and the gamblers and those that never did and never will work are first to sit at the table. The trek is in the wrong direction.

To cleanse society of these impurities and to bring the depression to an end, I suggest that every able-bodied person who refuses to work should be denied the privilege of living off his fellow worker,

"It is for each to utter that which he sincerely believes to be true, and add his unit of influence, and let the results work themselves out."—Spencer. Contributors are urged to confine their articles to 300 words.

Fellow Citizens: It is difficult to become reconciled to the attitude of Mr. Tarver in his recent contribution to The Register, wherein he defended that unreasonable Communistic, land-grabbing proposition, the single tax.

A man in the profession of law, has surely spent a portion of his practice in defense of people's property rights, and to advocate a plan of taxation which amounts to property-confiscation, is hardly a consistent course for a lawyer to take.

Single tax proponents make no attempt to conceal from the people that this is a confiscatory measure, to create more state owned land. In the voter's pamphlet, p. 38, I quote from the proponent's argument as follows: "Sure this amendment makes more taxes fall on publicly-created land values."

"Land is a gift without cost to humanity."

A recent speaker over the radio defending proposition number 20, defended the state's right to confiscate by taxation unimproved and non-producing land, because that would create a lot of free land to take care of future depressions. I wonder how the thrifty young man, who is sacrificing shows and other pleasures to make payments on a little lot on which he, later, hopes to build, will like that.

Those who wrote the measure, took the precaution to remove the 25 per cent limitation of tax on real and personal property. This amounts to compelling the owner of land to sign a blank check for his taxes and letting the state fill in the amount, with his property held by the state as a surety that the check won't bounce.

How will this proposition hit the little fellow? With the largest migratory labor problem of any state in the union many small home owners will be hit because of the nature of their work.

Home owners must occupy their homes to claim exemption on improved property. Those who follow cotton picking, fruit picking and packing or work for a chain store may find it impossible to occupy their homes at all times and may have to rent them out part of the year to tenants. These migratory workers with small homes to rent become land speculators, and not entitled to tax exemption. It is safe to say that far more people will be hit who are small home owners than the number of big land speculators whom this measure was designed to chastise, and it seems to me a mighty poor way to take a wallop at the big fellow, is to trip him and make him fall on top of us.

The proponents argue that "Land is a free gift without cost to humanity." I may add, so is the ocean, but let them go down to the docks and demand a division of the catch of a fishing boat, because the boat owners, took the fish out of an ocean that belongs to all of us. Is that one clear?

Flood Deaths Due to Delay

By ERIK MCKINLEY ERIKSSON
Professor of History, University of Southern California

The sympathy of the whole country has been extended to the people of the northeastern states who recently experienced a terrific hurricane followed by devastating floods. To hold anyone responsible for the wind, rain and tidal waves would be absurd. It is beyond human power to curb the forces of nature. The President's "amazing interference" in the matter, Reference was made to his letter to Governor Cross of Connecticut, written in August, 1937, in which he declared that it was his "profound conviction that these matters are properly the subject of Federal legislation and not of interstate compacts."

Unquestionably the chief blame for nullifying the declared policy of Congress to encourage the states to cooperate under compacts in the promotion of flood control projects should be placed on the Chief Executive. Insofar as lives were lost through the frustration of the New England flood control project, the New Deal should be held responsible. Regardless of how many millions of dollars of federal money are spent for relief in the stricken areas, there can be no adequate compensation for those whose lives might have been spared had the New England states been allowed to exercise their sovereign power a year ago.

News Behind The News

By PAUL MALLON

World Copyright 1938 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Very much off the record, three Roosevelt right hand men are trying to do something about the estrangement of government and business.

It may sound like an election gag. Before the last election right wing sages sounded the bugle for economic sweetness and light, but the post election echo brought back blue notes like the Supreme Court fight. Breathing spell choked off with a gasp.

Nothing like that appears to be in the big fellows now. For one thing, the whole political setup here is different. No political landlards seem likely to stir up the atmosphere.

This new move is more like the real thing for another reason, the way it is being worked. Specifically, Assistant Commerce Secretary Patterson is trying to line up industrial leaders to go on the radio with government officials in a question and answer program. Names of men like Sloan, Weir, Stettinius, Hook, are being mentioned as those the government would like to have (although none has been signed yet.) Idea would be to promote a discussion of existing misunderstandings in an effort to clear them by public agreement.

Patterson will not even admit he is working on such a plan, but he started developing it at the Industrial Management conference here and may be in a position to announce something shortly.

Working parallel with Patterson are Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold and Security Exchange Chairman Douglas. They constitute a sort of unofficial committee on their own hooks. Arnold's contribution is mostly the restraint he is practicing within the anti-monopoly (National Economic) committee. His good friends in the Justice Department (including hard-punching Robert Jackson) are known to have advised him against forcing a showdown in the committee on his cleanup ideas. They have told him it would blow up the whole committee show. A sort of truce prevails with general understanding that nothing big will be done until after election, probably not until another house member is appointed to the committee in Eicher's place in January.

The Douglas contribution is more affirmative. He has been fraternizing with some of the power people on Louis Johnson's power facilities expansion committee, without catching poison ivy. As a result, recent set efforts on the holding companies act have indicated a willingness to work out things amicably.

The temperature trio seems to be leaning toward an un-announced conclusion which is gaining adherents here, namely:

A Democratic system does not function with disharmony between government and business. Government, if its purpose be Democratic, is hurting its own long run by kicking business around. Further, more such policy does not follow the announced government purpose of continuing business and industry in a private basis.

Two obvious courses are open. If the Democratic capitalist system is to work successfully, government will have to assume a benevolent attitude toward business. Even to the extent of codding it and petting it—and vice-versa.

The unemployed cannot be expected to work any other Democratic way. At very least a set of rules must be worked out under which both business and government may work in peace and comfort.

Only sincere alternate method of making business work is for the government to take it over and run it, as fascism, communism or socialism or anything you want to call it. Half-way measures may merely keep anything from working.

Apparently Mr. Roosevelt is not to take much part personally in this. As his friends explain it, he could not do so without subjecting his maneuver to the misinterpretation of a retreat. However, business men would be a lot more confident about going into it, if he did. They are more than a little afraid that after election, White House accent will switch to Messrs. Corcoran, Cohen and Hopkins, another trio, with different ideas.

Cancel all past predictions about the Supreme Court appointment and move Thurman Arnold up near the top of the list of possibles. Some administration gumshoes have been checking the senate and concluded, to their own astonishment, that he might easily be confirmed. He is only 47, but is a westerner (Wyoming) would furnish a typical Roosevelt surprise; would avert any of the absurd religious discussion centering around the Frankfurter prospect. The well informed at the capitol have heard no appointment will be made until after election, possibly not until congress convenes.

Note—Western Senators are still pulling for D. C. Appeals Judge Harold Stephens and Circuit Judge Sam Bratton.

General Hugh S. JOHNSON SAYS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In all this suddenly revealed purpose to launch an almost unlimited armament program, it would be a swell idea to keep our shirts on. Military programs for defense are not worked out in a day. The considerations that governed Britain and France to sacrifice Czechoslovakia because of their own unpreparedness in the air are not necessarily ours. They are subject to swift bombing raids of a destructive character. But the bomber has not yet been produced that can fly 3000 miles, drop its load, and return to its base.

Mr. Bullitt returning from France is reported to have infected the administration with acute airplaneitis. Mr. Bullitt is a brilliant man and a good ambassador, but I never heard that he has any particular military experience. We happen now to have an excellent general staff. Before we come to any quick conclusions about unbalanced spending for defense, it would be wise for the country to hear what it has to say.

Nothing has yet been proved on extremist claims for the devastating effect of aircraft, except for its effect to bluff Britain and France which are in peculiarly exposed positions. This is no argument against a larger air defense and a better production, only against any amateur snap judgment on this peculiarly technical problem.

The National Recovery Act away back in 1933 appropriated almost any amount the President chose to mechanize and motorize the army. After Mr. Ickes got that title of the bill to administer, nothing was done. That was five years ago. Much of that money was spent on raking leaves when it could have been spent to as good or better effect on employment for equipping our national defense, and we would now have something better for our dough than debt and defenselessness.

There is something about this swift, sudden lullabala about "billions for defense" that smells a little like political hokum. It is true that our army, though excellently organized, staffed and manned, has not been properly equipped. It is true, too, that we need a bigger navy. But there is something a little preposterous about this sudden discovery of a desperate emergency need with nothing more specific than we yet have heard to describe or define it.

Our defensive problem requires something more than long range air-bombers on the formula of European nations sitting with boundaries back to back, or nearly so. It requires a great provision of anti-aircraft troops and equipment, mobile heavy artillery to guard cities, especially coast towns, against raids. It requires swift, compact, armored land forces of greatly increased firepower. It needs plentiful reserve supplies of powder, explosives and propellants, which take a long time to produce after the initial order. It cries for plans for industrial mobilization worked out in cooperation between industrialists and military men, and not by the latter alone. Soldiers know less about industry than lawyers know about surgery.

Recent scarehead agitation is for headlong action on no well-considered and deliberate program. It is as big a folly to try too much too soon as to try too little too late. I ought to know. I ran N.R.A.
